Discovering new ways to get the crowd to support the basketball team are DHS's own cheerleaders.

Indiana's Senator Richard Lugar is discovered, right, running with the DHS cross country team.

Your Voyage of DISCOVERY In 1992-1993

As the new school year started in the late summer of 1992, history buffs were gearing up to celebrate a discovery 500 years earlier, Christopher Columbus's discovery of the new world. And, like Columbus five centuries earlier, we all were launched on our own voyages of discovery.

We're not claiming our discoveries would be of such historical significance, but who is to say? We all learned something about ourselves, whether it was in the classroom, in athletic competition, in musical preparation and performances, or in social encounters.

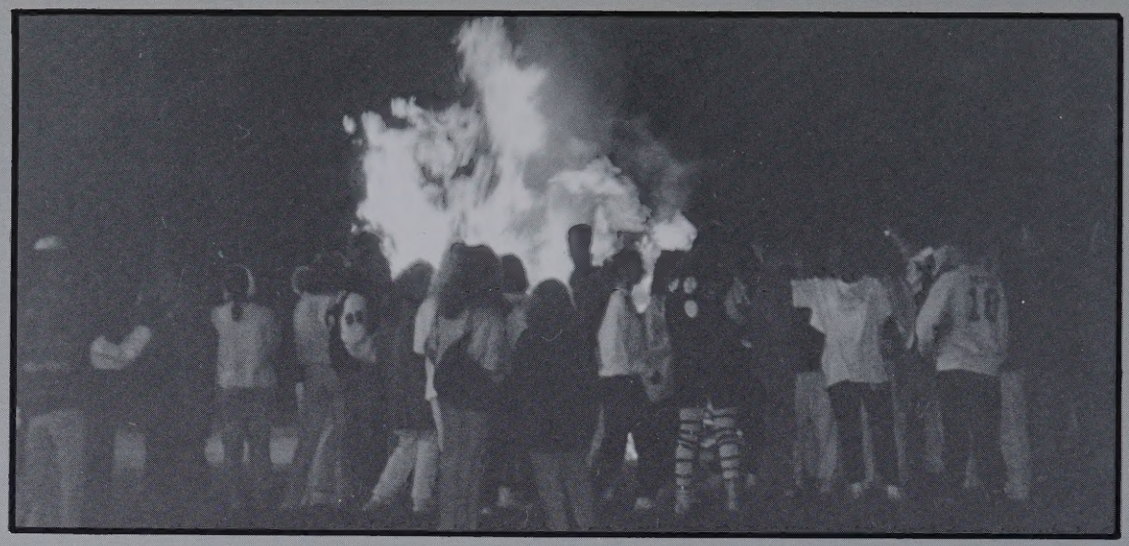
In the classroom, we discovered that we really do enjoy working with computers--or that our future is definitely NOT in the field of mathematics or science.

In athletics we discovered that we were capable of more than we had thought if we would only dedicate ourselves and rely on our teammates. We also learned to deal with the temporary pain of defeat.

We hope that as you look through the pages of the 1993 Saber that you will Discover Yourself in some way, whether it is yourself, in person, or some situation similar to one that you have experienced.

The Baron Brigade's new uniforms are NOT these which were "discovered" for the traditional Halloween show.

DISCOVER STUDENT LIFE



Discovering the warmth of friendship around the Homecoming bonfire after the Powder Puff game, these Barons take part in one of our many traditions.

Discovering that your friends are also at the fair is always a happy moment. That makes the rides just that much more fun!

Have these Barons discovered their true identities? Who knows? At least they're showing their school spirit on Hillbilly Day.

A twisted ankle gives Todd Stayer a good excuse to ride with Kadish Evans at the Kruse auction grounds.

Entertaining an evening audience at the fair, the Swing Choir concludes an energy-filled number.

The fair's midway at night has many different attractions which Amy Roark seems to be checking out.

SEPTEMBER

ACTIVITIES INVOVLE MANY BARONS

Shortly after school started on August 25, the entire county became involved in two special events: ACD Days and the Fair, both in September.

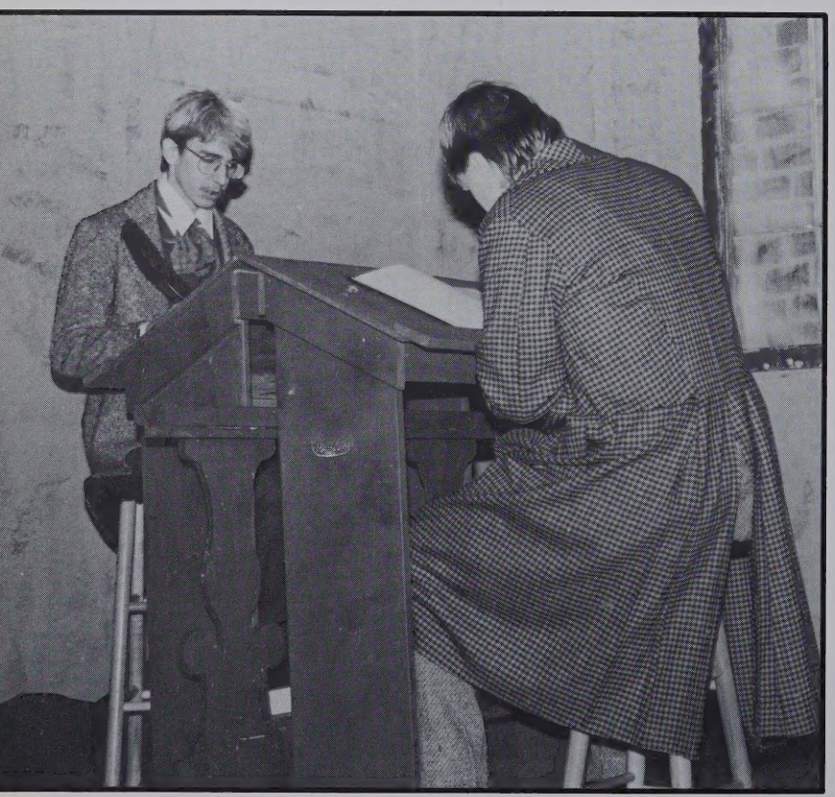
Each year the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Festival draws visitors from all over. Since many students are involved with this Labor Day weekend event, school is dismissed on Friday. Many Barons worked at the Kruse car auction doing such things as washing cars, taking tickets, and selling food.

Another event that got us out of school for a day was the DeKalb County Fair. Students from everywhere came to Auburn to ride the rides and hang out with their friends. Some Barons took part in one or more of the parades. 4-H members exhibited their livestock or other projects. And Campus Life brought in Michael Peterson who amazed everyone with his strength.

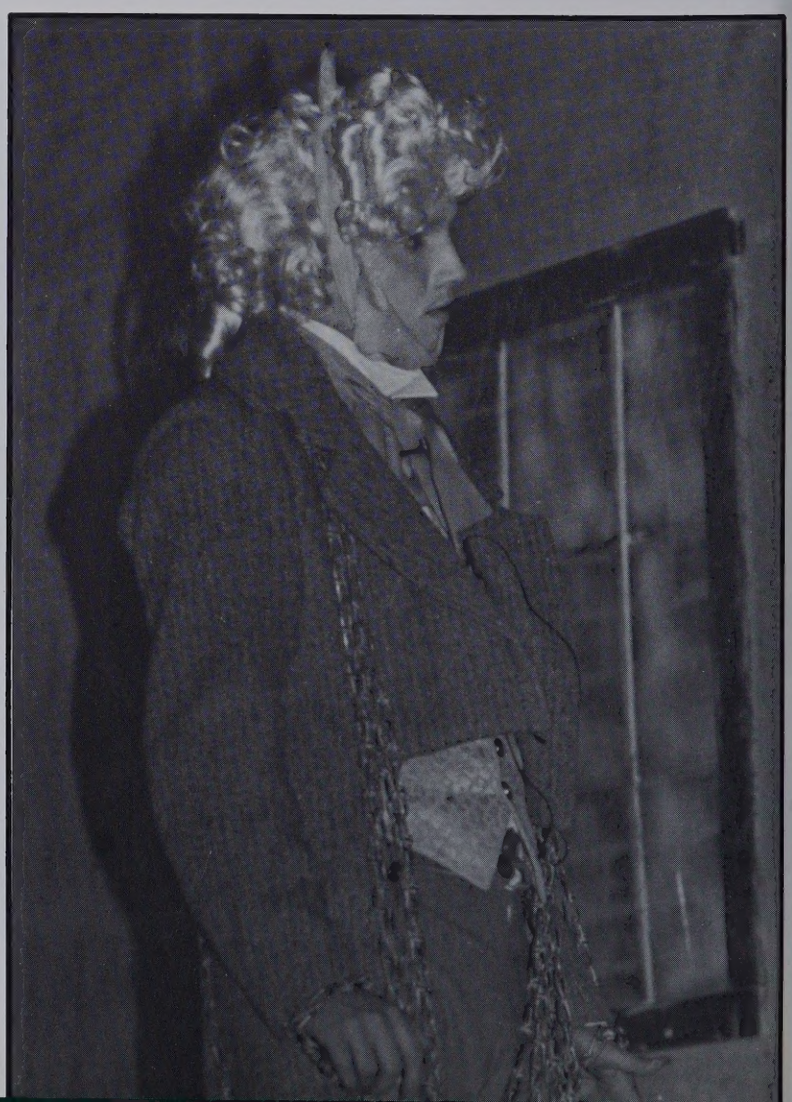
Both of these events helped to make the opening weeks of school more bearable.

Whee! No, we're not too old for this, say Jessica Richardson and her friend, enjoying their ride on the Spider.

Recent grad Jolene Lehner seems happy for Beth Kessler and Malissa Dickson with their recent winnings.



Dressed warmly in the counting house's cold office are Ebenezer Scrooge and Bob Cratchit.



Wearing his chains, the ghost of Marley (Todd Higgins) warns Scrooge of some upcoming visitors.

"Isn't this a marvelous goose!" The Cratchit family admires the food set before them at Christmastime.

Bringing two orphans to impress Scrooge is Sean O'Dell as the Spirit of Christmas Present.

EBENEZER

LEARNS ABOUT LIFE'S MANY BLESSINGS

To help everyone get into the Christmas spirit, Charles Dickens' classic "A Christmas Carol" was performed in the auditorium on November 20 and 21. The story takes place in London during the middle of the nineteenth century at Christmastime.

The main character, Ebenezer Scrooge, played by Ryan Meschberger, has been ignoring the true meaning of Christmas because he is so obsessed with material things--such as money.

Then three spirits (the ghosts of Christmas Past, Present, and Future) show him that his view of the world may have undesirable consequences. He then decides to change his ways before it is too late.

The play was directed by Shelley and Kent Johnson with Jessica Goldsmith serving as technical director. Over seventy-five students worked on the production, including some from McKenney-Harrison Elementary School who played the children's parts.

Acting as the narrator Charles Dickens, Matt Keller updates the audience as Act II begins.

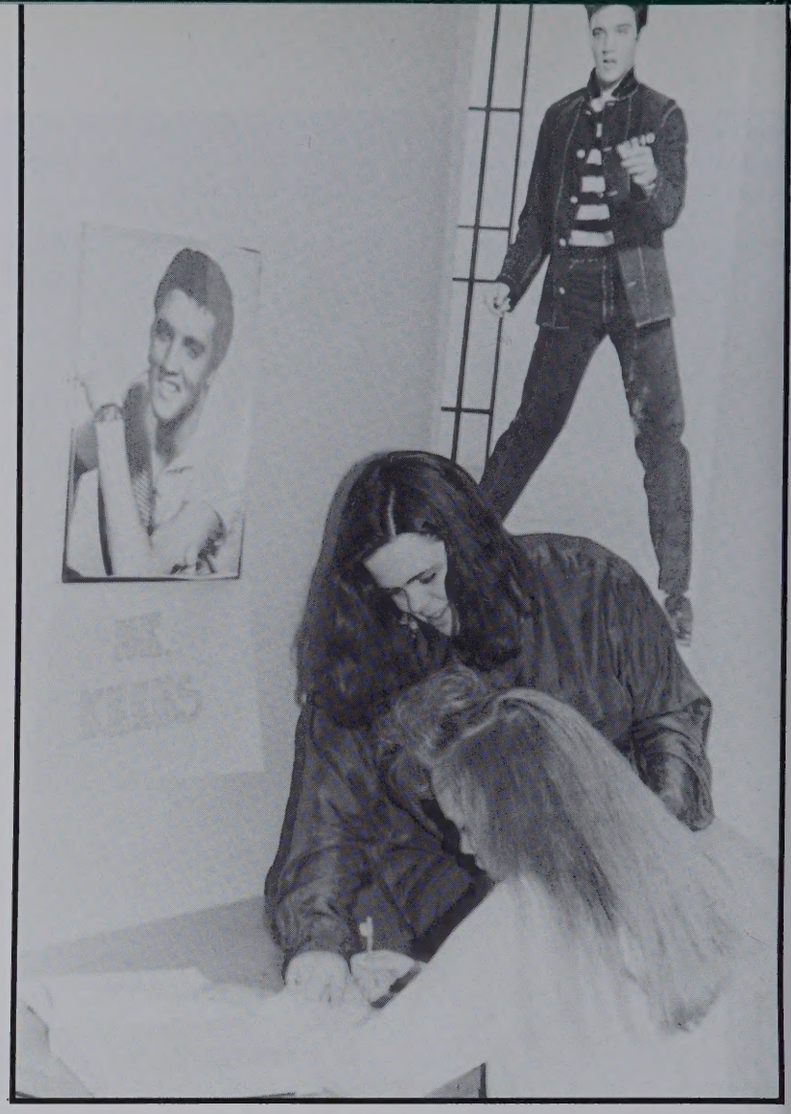
Doing his student service in the Art Department, Brian Immel puts in some time on the graphics computer.

With "The King" looking on, Melanie Roe and Mindy Schmidt do some work for Mr. Cole Krebs.



In the Home Ec Department, Alisa Moore's student service work is helping Karen Nodine with her quilt.

Doing her student service for Mrs. Tita Gordon, Amanda Gearhart seems to be catching up on her homework.

STU. SERVICE

WORKERS GIVE TEACHERS ASSISTANCE

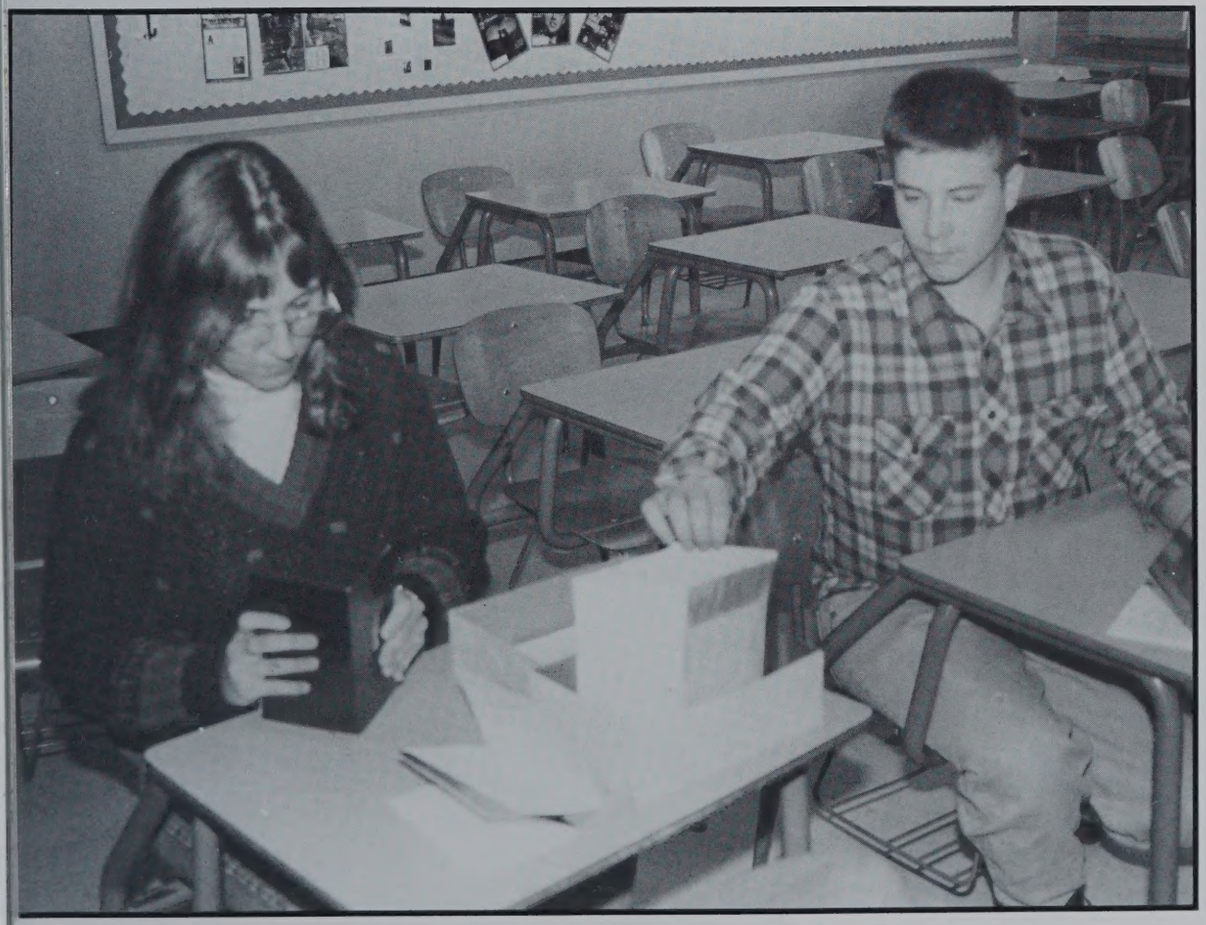
One way in helping contribute to the school is through student service. Student service workers do various chores that teachers or staff ask them to do.

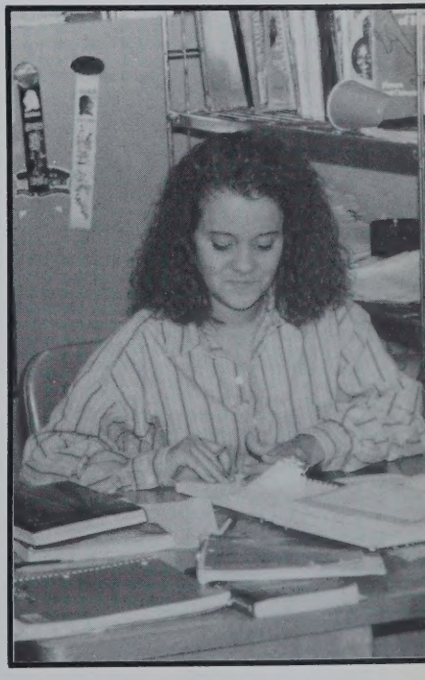
Most of the students like it because it gets them out of study hall and the experience could help the students in the future at college or with a job.

Out of the people who were asked, most would choose student service again rather than being in study hall. One person said,"Yes, I would choose student service again because when there's nothing to do I can sleep instead of pretending I have something to do."

A benefit of having student service for the teachers is that most of their regular routines are done for them such as grading papers, typing, taking attendance, and cleaning up.

Among the unique jobs, are fixing machines, taking down or putting up display cases, helping the janitors out with cleaning, and calling people on the phone.





Acting as Mr. Tim Rayle's student service worker, Stacy Penland seems to be enjoying the task at hand.

Working on the prom for Mrs. Robin Williams are Michelle Brown and Morgan Hefty, left.

Sam Sprankle plays for the band's Halloween half-time show, but who's that behind him?

Ben Peverly plays his best for a peculiar talent show that was held around Halloween time.

Camille Bir, Christine Treesh, and Misti Hall pose with Santa (Tim Strawser) at the Christmas dance.

Joining the choir in song at the Christmas convo is Frosty the Snowman, portrayed by Ryan Myers.

CELEBRATION

HOLIDAYS BRING FUN TO EVERYONE

We always have lots of fun with the holidays! The most commonly celebrated events are Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentines Day, St. Patrick's Day, and Easter.

For Halloween, besides wearing costumes, it is rumored that some Barons went trick-or-treating.

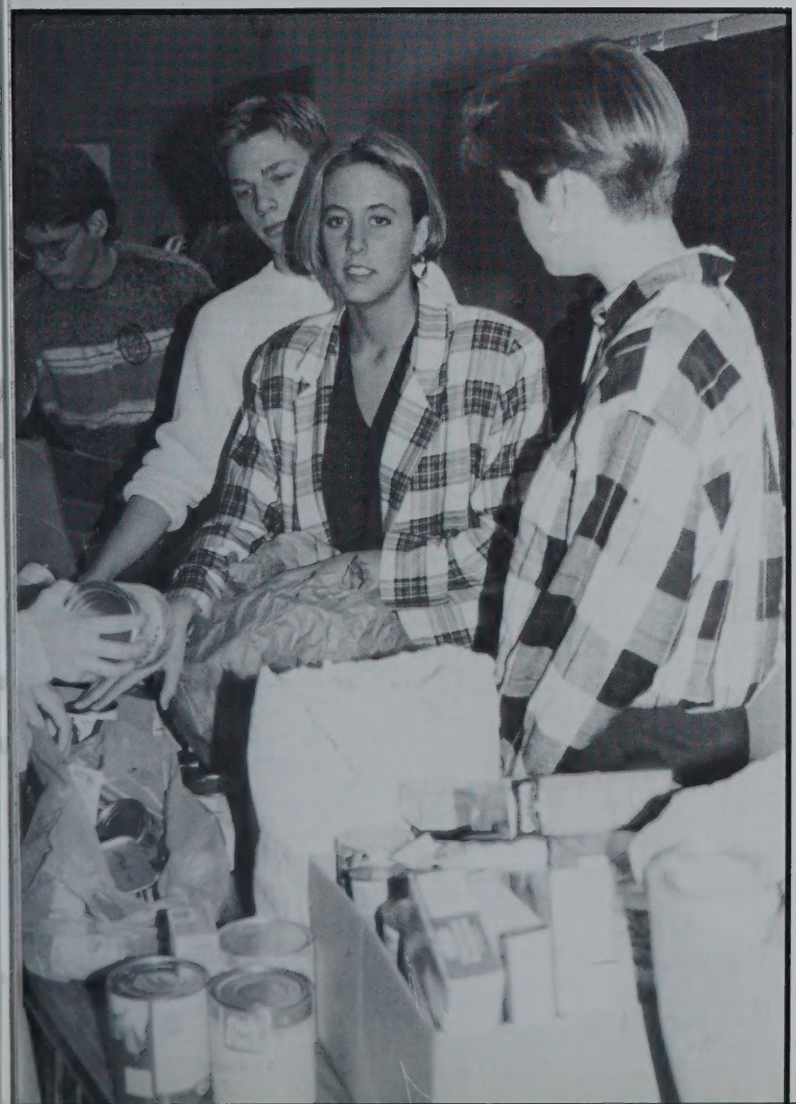
Next came Thanksgiving when the foods class prepared a feast for the faculty.

Perhaps the most celebrated holiday was Christmas. Bells were found around the necks and on the shoes of students, decorations of various kinds in hallways and classrooms, and of course, a one week vacation from school!

For Valentines Day there was a semi-formal dance sponsored by the Art Club. This was an event that many students really enjoyed!

St. Patrick's Day was a relatively small holiday. A lot of green was seen and a few people got pinched, but that's about it! Then came Easter, which got us a day out of school.

There were many holidays throughout the year when students, faculty, and staff put forth a lot of effort to make sure that each and every one of them was memorable!



Trent Johnson, Andrea Underhill, and Peggy Sanders bag up cans from the successful holiday food drive.

Chris Corey and many of her friends "boogie down" at the after-game dance celebrating Christmas.

WELLBEING

PROMOTED AT FOCUS ON HEALTH

Concern for our health and the well-being of others was the main idea on Thursday, January 28. On that day both gyms saw a lot of activity.

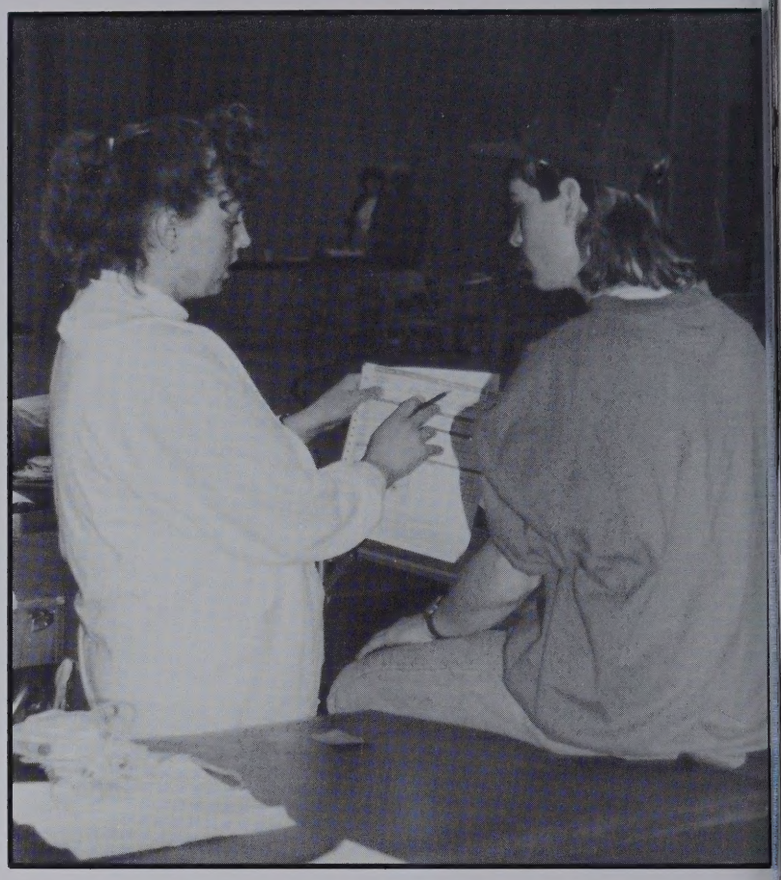
In the auxiliary gym, Student Council and HOE students helped with the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Students and staff donated a total of 115 pints of blood to help other people.

The main gym held Focus on Health. Here students could check such things as their height, weight, blood pressure, flexibility, and vision.

What is it like to be physically challenged? A wheelchair obstacle course was set up for students to try. What is it like to have emphysema? A small straw to breathe through helped students better understand this problem. Other health-related groups such as the Cancer Society also had displays to try to educate us about our health.

Most of us came away from Focus on Health with a clearer understanding of our bodies and how to keep them healthy.

Shane Wells listens as a Red Cross worker explains the form and the process used in the Bloodmobile.

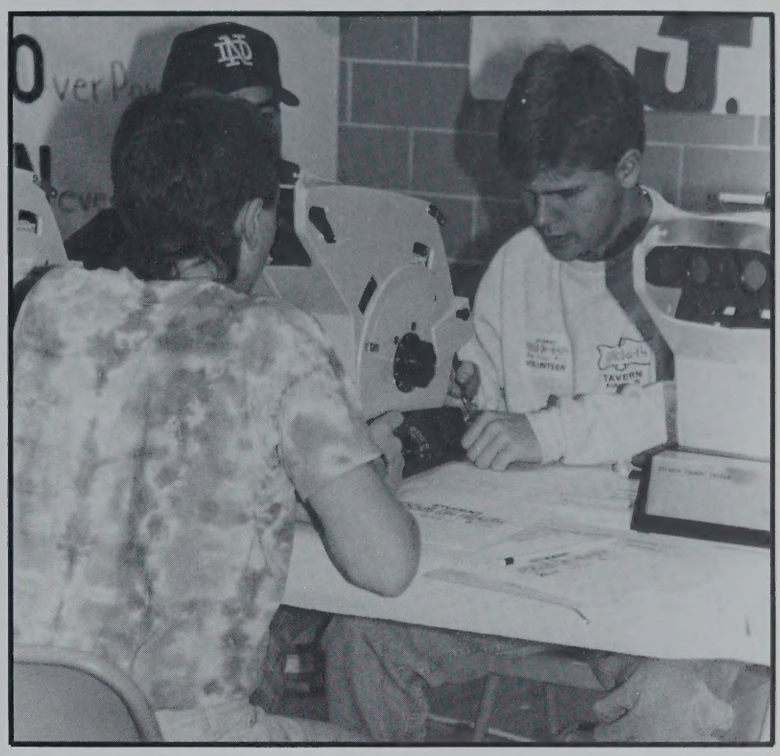


Visiting one of the informational displays, James Forbes and Steve Hancock "Ask a Pharmacist."

"Spit it out!" Dave Hefty and Jerry Simanton do the Heimlich maneuver as Adam Hissong watches.

These two dummies, Larry and Vince, seem to be feeling fit as they spread the idea of safe driving.

"Can you read the letters on the next line?" Grant Detrick gives the test to check Damon Hornett's eyes.



Amy Hayes and Julie Harris help fellow students such as Tony Dollier learn their blood pressure.

Chosen Most Likely to Succeed and Most Studious was Amy Leffel, below, active in several clubs.

Shawna Skelding, right, named in three categories, receives an award from Athletic Director Dick McKean.

Talented in both vocal and instrumental music, Ben Peverly, above, plays his sax for a talent show.

Portraying Dolly Levi in "Hello, Dolly!" is Tonyia Blackburn, named the Most Talented female.

SENIOR POLL

CLASSMATES SELECT LEADERS

Who were the members of the class of '93 that their classmates looked up to the most? That's what we tried to discover when we took the Saber Senior Poll for 1993. The results follow.

Winning in the most categories were Shawna Skelding and Don McKean. Both of them were chosen as having the Most School Spirit, being the Most Outgoing, and the Class Clown.

Winning the nod in two areas was Amy Leffel: Most Likely to Succeed and Most Studious. Andy McCanna was the guy Most Likely to Succeed while Simon Dunn was the Most Studious male.

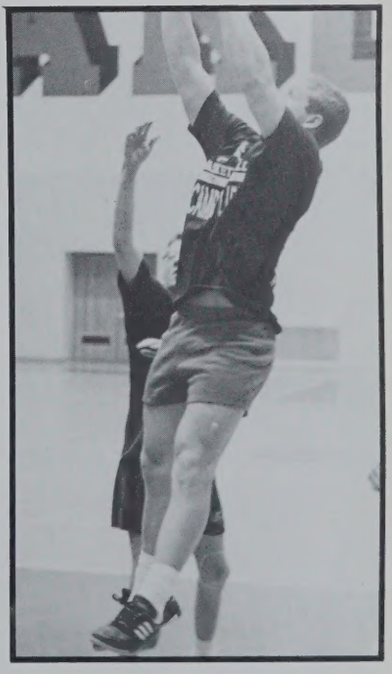
Others selected included Best Dressed -- M.C. Gengnagel and Todd Stayer; Most Talented-- Tonyia Blackburn and Ben Peverly; and Most Athletic-- Wendy Recker and John Bickel.

It is our opinion that all seniors were outstanding. Those named in this one highly unscientific poll were just a few.



The Most Athletic male, Jon Bickel makes a jump shot as he plays for the Campus Life basketball team.

WEEKENDS

WORKING (?) OCCUPIES OUR TIME

Weekends are an exciting time for students at DeKalb. What the weekends mean to them is freedom. They just need time to relax, be themselves, and work. Yes, work. It doesn't matter what you do during the weekend, it's considered work. Like working at home in the yard, at a fast food place, etc.

For other people, they like to just cruise and gather to talk to their friends. They can go several places such as Buy Smart, the bowling alley, Hardee's, just to name a couple of the most popular gathering spots.

You also have school events that kids also attend during the weekends. Sports, choir events, band concerts, dances, etc... But what else is there to do during the weekends besides earn money, stay home and study, or just go out and have a good old time with a bunch of friends?

"When is the next show?" Mc c
Miller's job at Northway Cinem n cludes answering the phone.

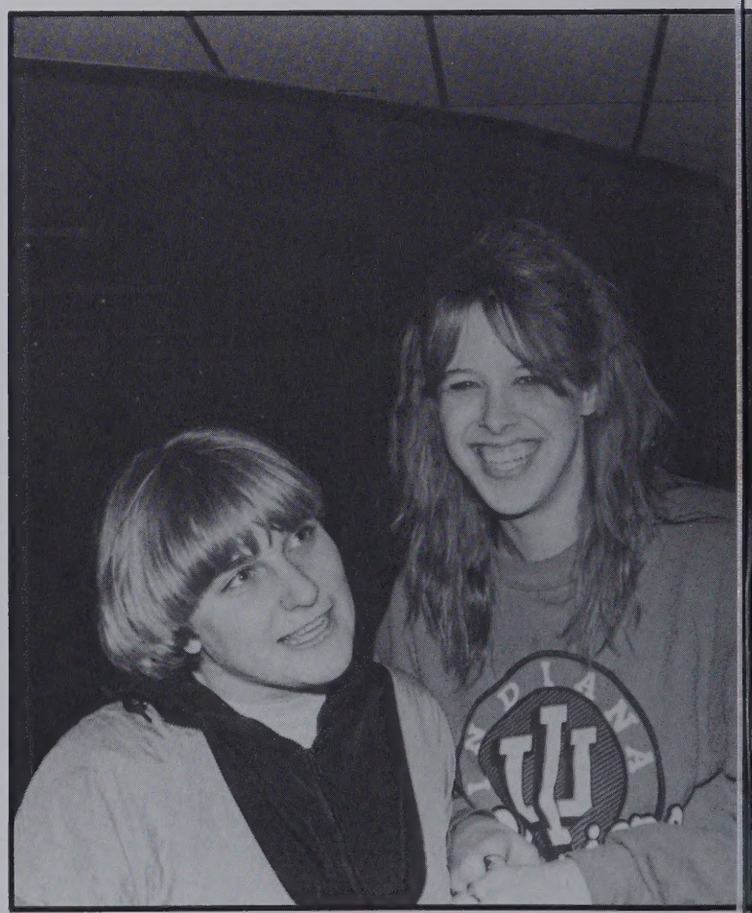
After-prom "loot" is displayed by Sara Trapp, Jenny Pressler, Karla Gaier, and Annie Recker.



Being with friends on weekends is fun, as Heather Hornett and Amy Sponhower will tell you.

One big weekend each year involves the prom. These guys (left) celebrate winning at the after- prom.

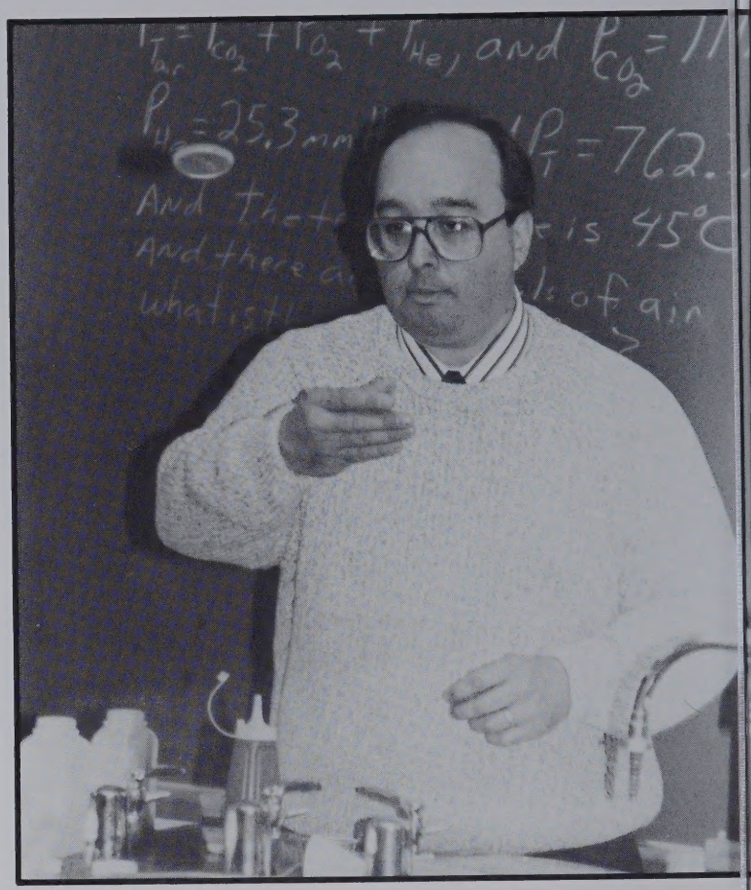
PREPARATION

CAREER DAY PROVIDES INFORMATION

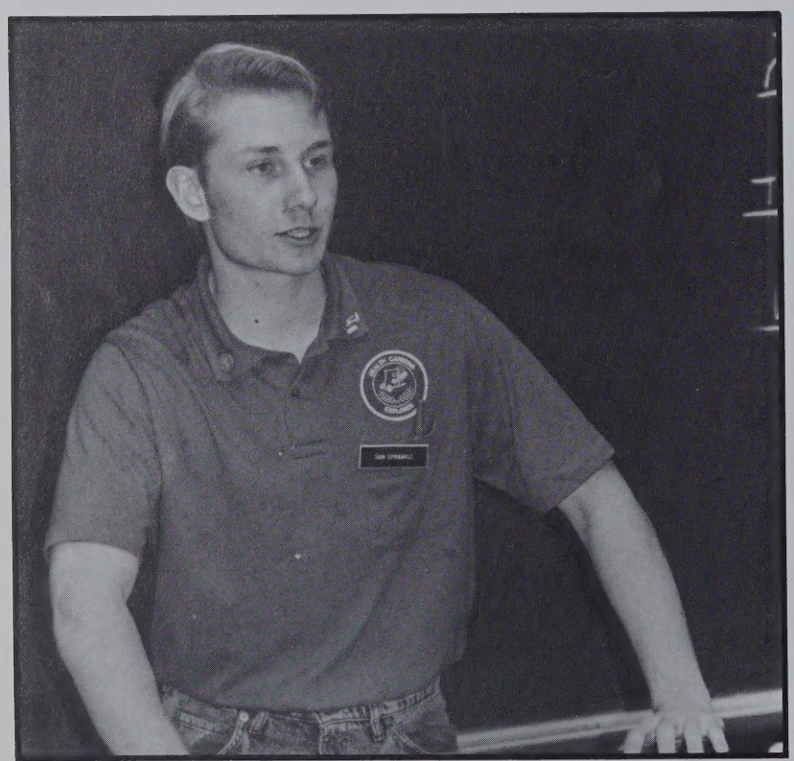
One of the major purposes of getting an education is preparation for life after high school. This includes gaining some skills that could be used in a job, but perhaps equally important is learning about what job opportunities there are--especially about various jobs and careers that we might not have previously known that much about.

Career Day gave us just such an opportunity. On the morning of April 2 the teachers brought in guest speakers whose careers related to what the students were learning in that particular class. Some of the speakers were from banks, newspapers, hospitals, factories, and various governmental positions.

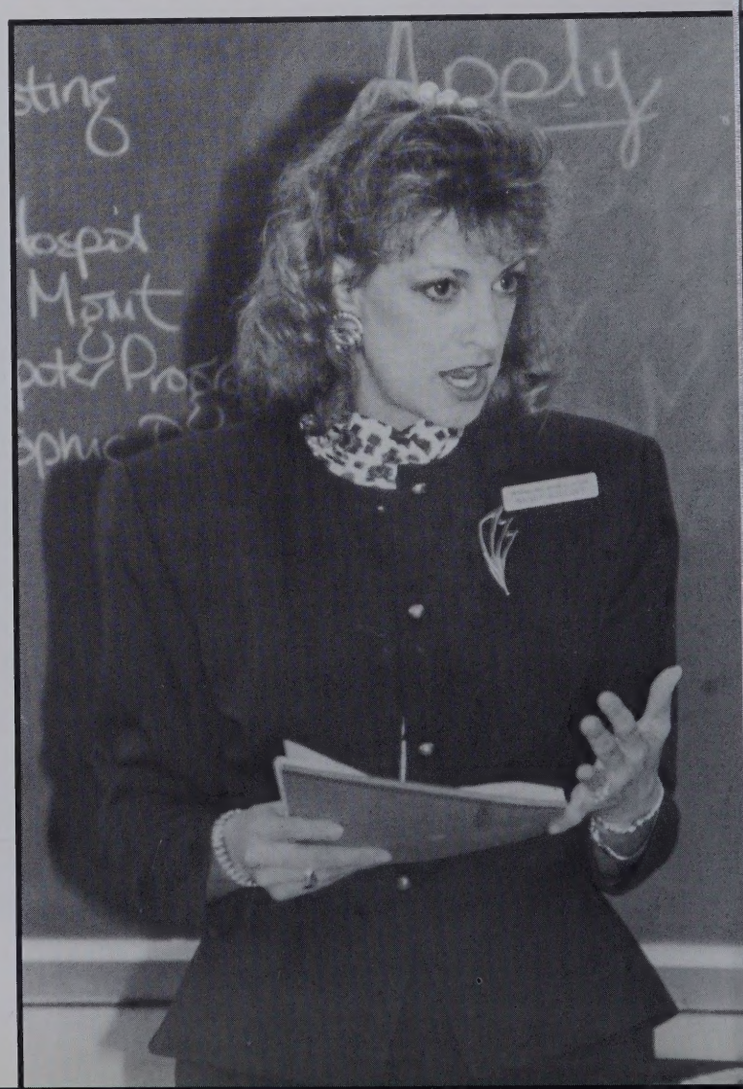
Many students don't wait until after graduation to get a job. For some, it is just a way to earn spending money, with the most popular places being stores and restaurants. Others are getting a head start on their post-graduation careers by working in offices, factories, or body shops gaining experience as well as a pay check.



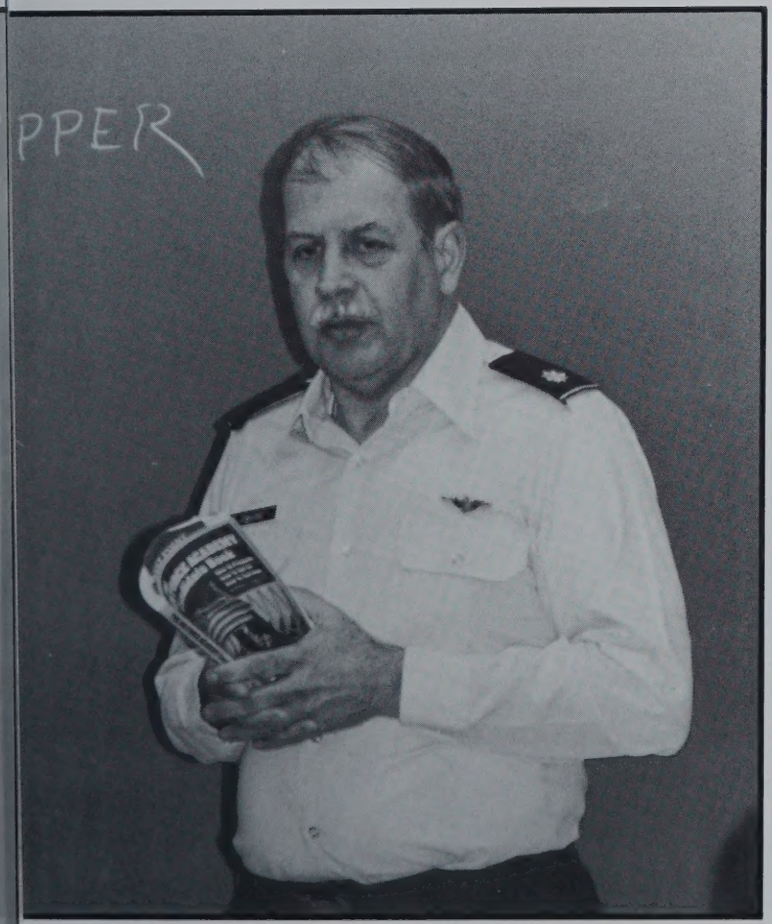
Mr. Donn Starkey tosses a sa[mple] of plastic to someone in Mr. Ric[hard] Barber's chemistry class.



Sam Sprankle talks to Mrs. Tita Gordon's class about the Explorer Post that helped him become an EMT.



International Business College's Ms. Nancy Gouloff explains programs to Mrs. Robin Williams' class.



Lt. Col. John Knepper tells Mrs. Marilyn Gearhart's class about the Air Force Academy and ROTC.

The HOE class learns about one aspect of health care by visiting the Samaritan helicopter.

Wanna be a fireman, Marc? Marc Bowling tries out the hat while on a government class field trip.

bers on the Bahamas trip.

Nate Weinhold, Trent Johnson, Josh Stuckey, and Shane Kenner spend four days in Mexico helping to build houses for the homeless.

After their flight to Jamaica, Renee Tomaszewski and Karla Kelleher learn more about the island.

SPRING BREAK

BARONS TRAVEL FAR AND WIDE

On the ramp leading from the cruise ship are band members Laura Rutter and Becky Rhodes.

Many of the DeKalb High School students spent their Spring Break in a lot of exciting ways. Others weren't quite so lucky. Most of the band members took a cruise to the Bahamas where they performed in Nassau with many other schools.

When they left there, they took a cruise back to Florida, where the students got to choose where they wanted to go. Their choices included MGM Studios, the Magic Kingdom, or Epcot Center.

Those who weren't able to go on the band trip, spent their time in many different ways. A lot of students went to other states. Some just stayed home to catch up on their sleep.

Many of the students in spring sports had daily practices. They always say, "Practice makes perfect." As long as they have fun at what they do.

No matter what we did on Spring Break, it was a week when we got away from all the long days that we face at DeKalb.

Sporting some new shirts they bought on their trip are Amanda Allen, Natalee Reese, and Sarah Lockwood.

With the Daytona Beach "jungle" behind them are Jackie Faulkner, Stacy Horstman, Shannen Amburgey, and Melissa Young.

Waiting on New York's 14th Street for the parade to go passing by are many members of the large cast.

Hackel and Tucker, two employees at the hay and feed store, listen as Vandergelder lays down the law.

Rudolph (Matt Keller) welcomes Dolly (Tonyia Blackburn) back to the Harmonia Gardens Restaurant.

HELLO, DOLLY!

MUSICAL ENTERTAINS AUDIENCES

What does a matchmaker do when she, herself, is looking for a match? One woman's clever answer to this dilemma was described in the entertaining musical "Hello, Dolly!"

The play, staged on April 30 and May 1 and 2, involved a large cast and crew. The title role of Dolly Gallagher Levi was played by Tonyia Blackburn. As Dolly awaits a sign of approval from her dead husband, she tries to get Horace Vandergelder to fall in love with her, while seeming to try to find him someone else.

Along the way, Vandergelder's two employees--Cornelius Hackel and Barnaby Tucker--go into New York and find some romance for themselves in an unusual spot: Irene Molloy's hat shop.

The title song of the play occurs when Dolly returns to the Harmonia Gardens Restaurant and all of the waiters welcome her back. Following a mix-up involving a trip to the police station, all's well that ends well.

Irene Molloy (Colleen McNabb) sings "Ribbons Down My Back" as she thinks about the future.

As Rudolph waits, Horace (Ryan Meschberger) and Ernestina (Celeste Reynolds) think about their order.

SPECTACULAR

PROM,AFTER-PROM ENCHANT COUPLES

" We've Got Tonight " was the theme for the Junior-Senior Prom held on Saturday, May 8th.

Blue and black seemed to be the most popular colors for the enchanted evening. Before the DJ started the music, couples were escorted from the exciting Grand March at the high school to the middle school, where the magical evening began.

As the Prom ended, the King and Queen Mat Rupert and Kelly Meyer were announced.

After the evening came to memorable end, SADD was ready. They put together a spectacular after-prom. The overnight activities included movies, a dunk tank, and a "Casino Night." They handed out a lot of great prizes, one of which was a used car from AAA Auto in Waterloo.

The next morning couples and friends climbed aboard three chartered buses for a Sunday of fun at Cedar Point.

Mrs. Barb Metelko is a good sport a the pre-prom convo, which involve pie throwing.

The lower bleachers are full as the prom-going couples are introduced for the Grand March.

King and Queen, Kelly Meyer and Mat Rupert were selected to reign by their classmates.

One activity of the evening involved being photographed as Jeremy Shuman and Andrea Underhill are.

A slow, romantic number seems to have attracted many of the couples out onto the dance floor.

A trolley is available to help prom-goers move from the Grand March to the prom itself.

FINE ARTS SHOW

WEEKEND DISPLAYS TALENTS

Fine Arts Weekend, May 21-23 was a big success. Included in this were displays from the nine fine arts classes, displays from the Literary Club, displays from the Graphic Arts department, and three concerts put on by the six band and choir classes. Each day a concert was put on and students along with the public were invited to come and brouse through the art show held in the main gym and watch a concert.

Friday evening, the choir department put on a show; Saturday evening the concert was performed and last, but not least, Sunday afternoon the Concert and Symphonic bands performed.

The nine fine arts classes mentioned previously include Basic Art I and II; Drawing and Painting I-IV; Commercial Design I and II; Jewelry and Crafts I-IV; Ceramics I-IV; Art History; Photography; Computer Art; and finally Basic Art Special Education.

As can be seen, the Fine Arts weekend at DeKalb High School is quite an event. Whether or not you've seen it before, it is strongly suggested for next year!

Using the staple gun, Art 1 and 2 student Traci Smeltzer mounts her work for the art show.

BARON FIELD DAY

SENIORS EMERGE VICTORIOUS

Most people who were at school on Friday, May 21, went to the Baron Field Day which was sponsored by the Student Council.

Baron Field Day started after fourth hour and ended at 3:20 p.m., so teachers could take attendance. The HOE class had a first aid stand so if anyone got hurt the class could help them.

The students who competed were against each other or against other classes. Seniors wore white; juniors wore black; sophomores wore red; and the freshmen wore gray. When everything was tallied up, the seniors won with 690 points; then the juniors and sophomores tied with 640 points; and coming in last were the freshmen with 400 points.

The events varied from football to euchre. The most physical events included football, softball, discus throw, 3 on 3 basketball, and soccer. People who were less active could play Name that Tune, Twister, board games, or Win, Lose or Draw.

There was also a grand stand set up where three student bands took their turn performing for their classmates.

David Rollins provides some physical support for Mark Steury as he takes part in horseshoes.

Pulling and straining for all they're worth, the seniors try to win the tug of war.

GRADUATION

GYM HOSTS TRADITIONAL CEREMONY

"Look ahead and dream; look back and remember." With their class motto hanging on the wall of the gym, members of the class of 1993 officially ended their high school careers and began the rest of their lives on the afternoon of June 6.

The traditional processional was followed by presentations by three class members. Shawna Skelding delivered the Welcome, Simon Dunn recognized the Academic Honor Diploma recipients, and Valarie Fairchild gave the Intention.

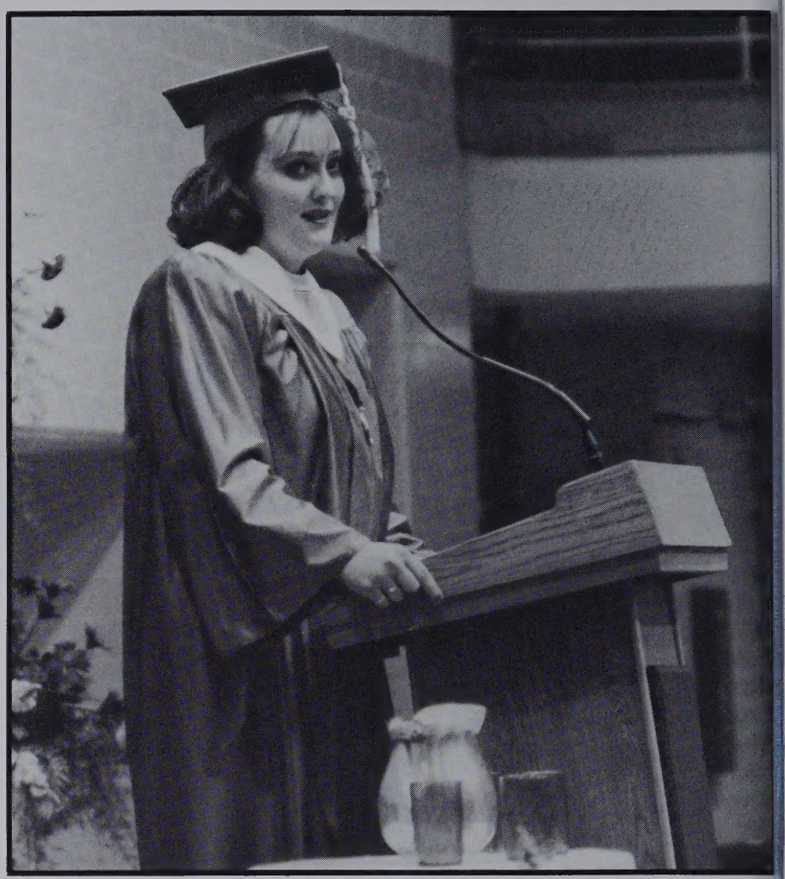
The Alumni Address was delivered by 1968 graduate Dr. Lawrence Richter, a neuro surgeon in Terre Haute.

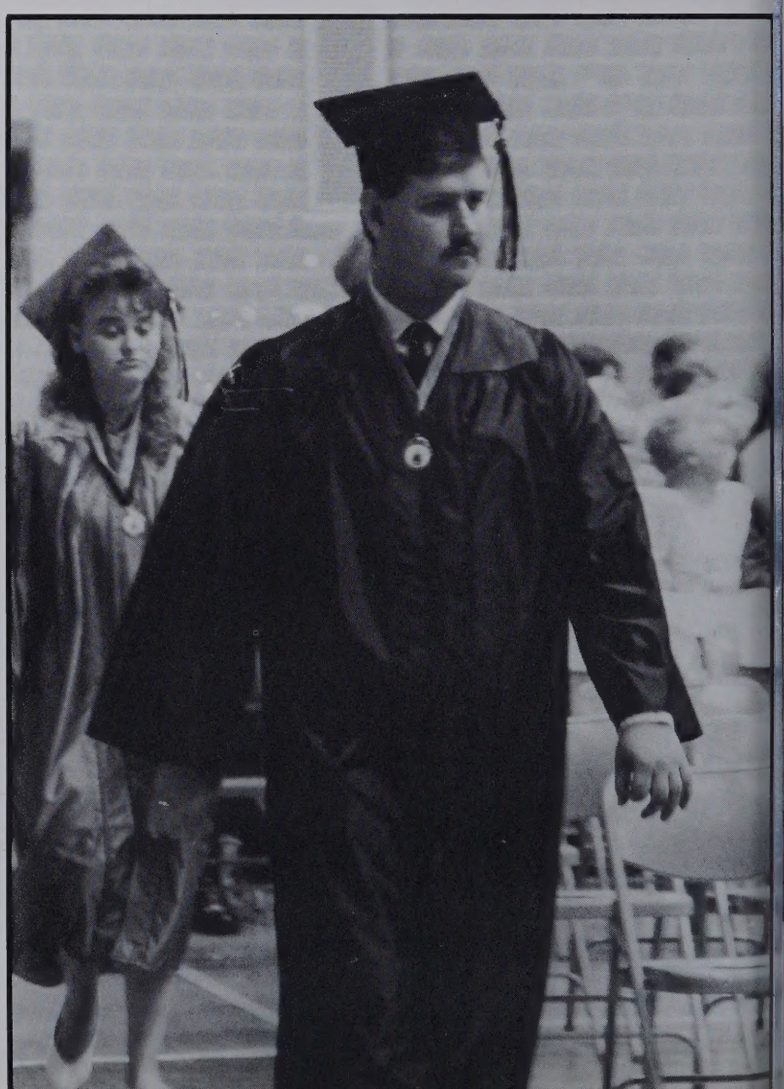
Principal Dale Hummer presented the class and read the list of 253 members of the graduating class as the Board of Education took turns handing out the diplomas.

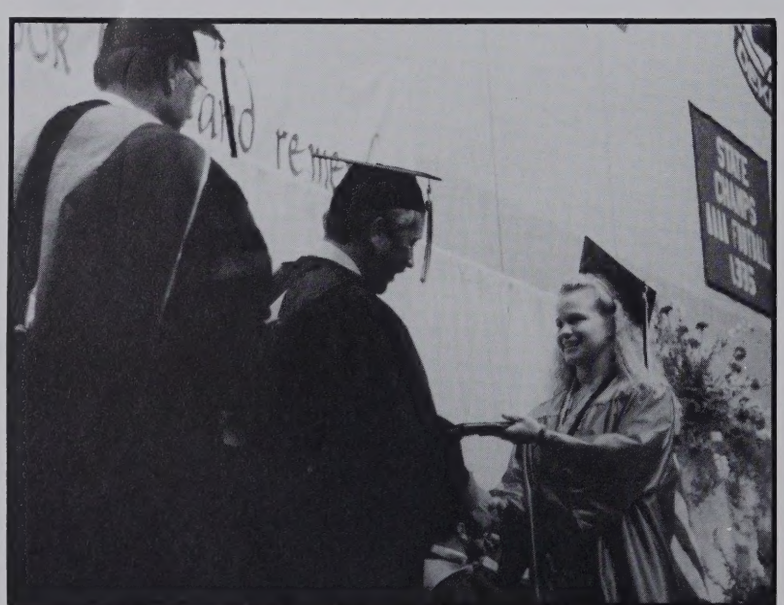
After the senior song, Bob Sweeney pronounced the Farewell. Superintendent Dr. Keith Perry then declared the class graduated and the new graduates left the gym.

Although a Supreme Court decision prevented prayer from being an organized part of the ceremony, it was clear that many in the audience were wishing that a Supreme Being would guide and help the graduates as they began their new lives.

Using her skills learned as a Speech Team member, Valarie Fairchild delivers the Intention.







Angie Haskins smiles as she accepts her diploma from Board of Education member Gary Henderson.

Chris Jones looks thoughtful as he enters the gym to the tones of "Pomp and Circumstance."

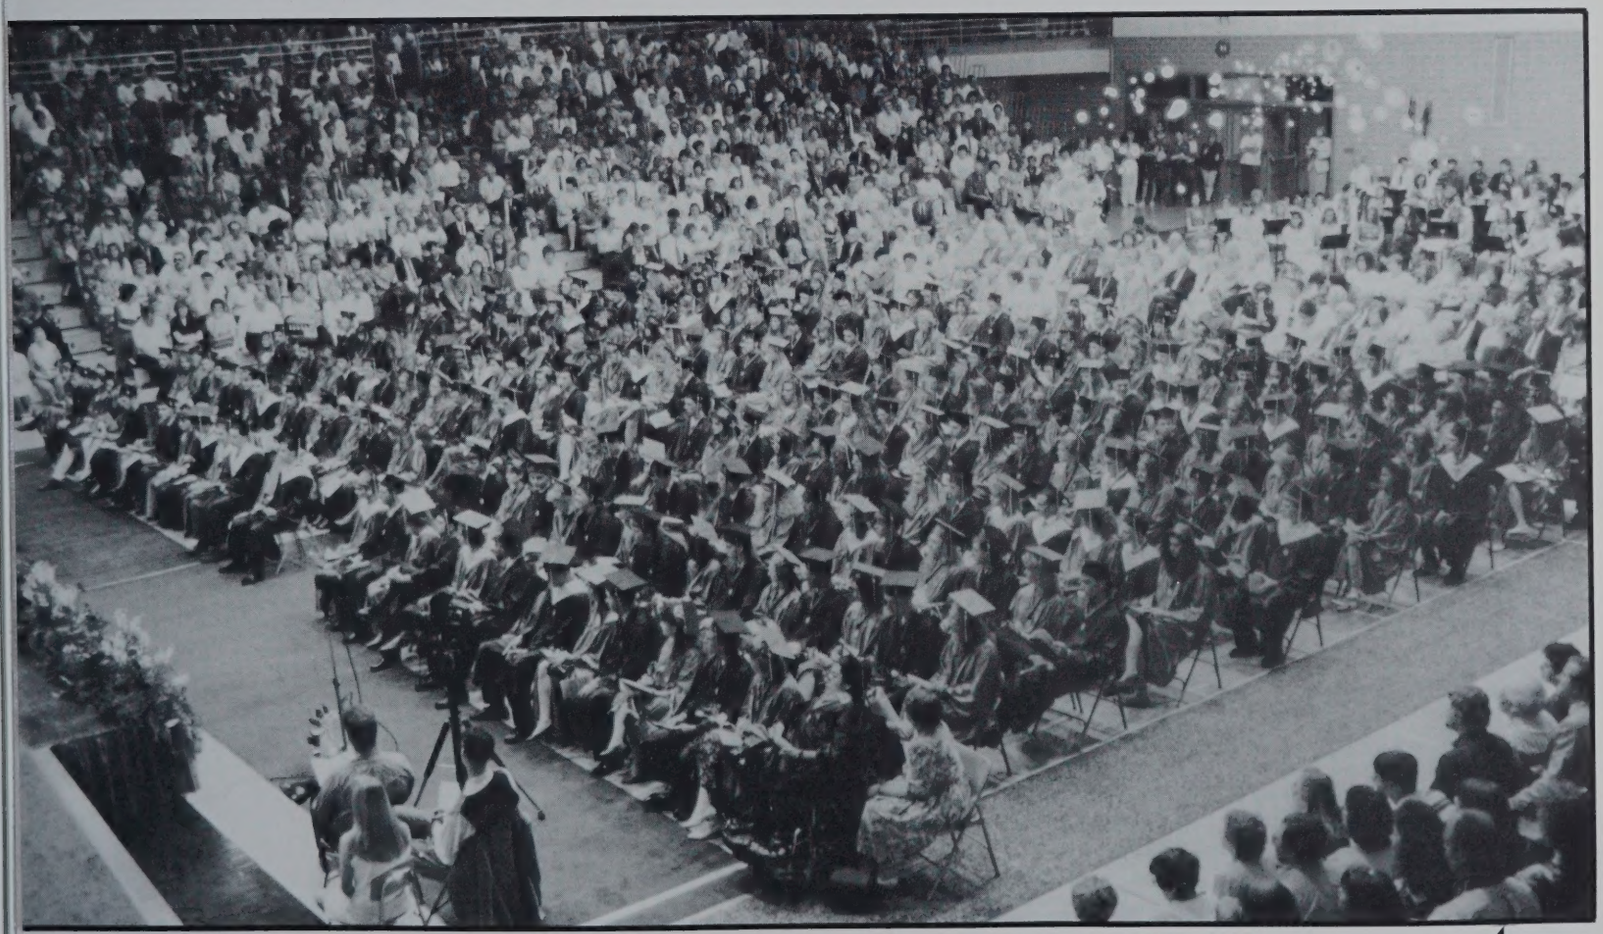
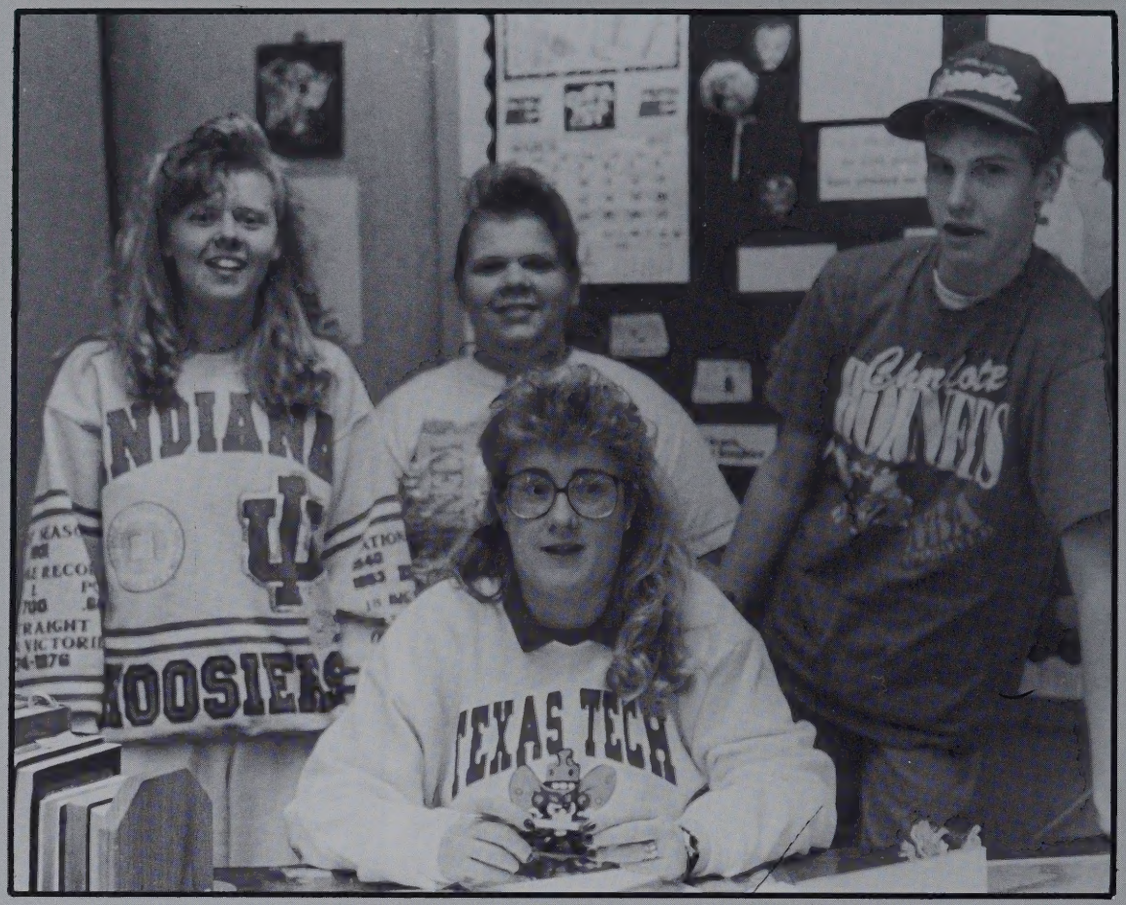
Together again for the last time: The Class of 1993 listens as the ceremony proceeds.

Talented graduates Ben Peverly and Tonyia Blackburn sing the class song, "Friends."



DISCOVER OURSELVES



To celebrate the start of the NCAA tourney, most of us supported our favorite teams, as did Mrs. Cindy Ziebell, Jamie Boger, and Terra Rigsby. However, Tim Culbertson has yet to discover that the Charlotte Hornets are NOT in the NCAA.

Sometimes one can discover unusual things on the football sidelines. Here, it is members of the senior Powder Puff team who are watching and hoping for success.

The game is about to begin and the Baron crowd is waiting to discover the outcome. The cheerleaders are preparing themselves for another evening of jumping and yelling.

DISCOVER ACADEMICS

Applied Communications students discover how to go about showing an animal as Bruce Bell gives his demonstration speech for Mrs. Jan Pence's class.

Don't let yourself be discovered looking at the camera! The Baron Brigade marches in the ACD parade. By the end of the year they had brand new uniforms.

"So this is what I discovered," explains David Hefty to one of the judges for the local Science Fair. Hefty's entry was just one of many for the all-day event at the middle school.

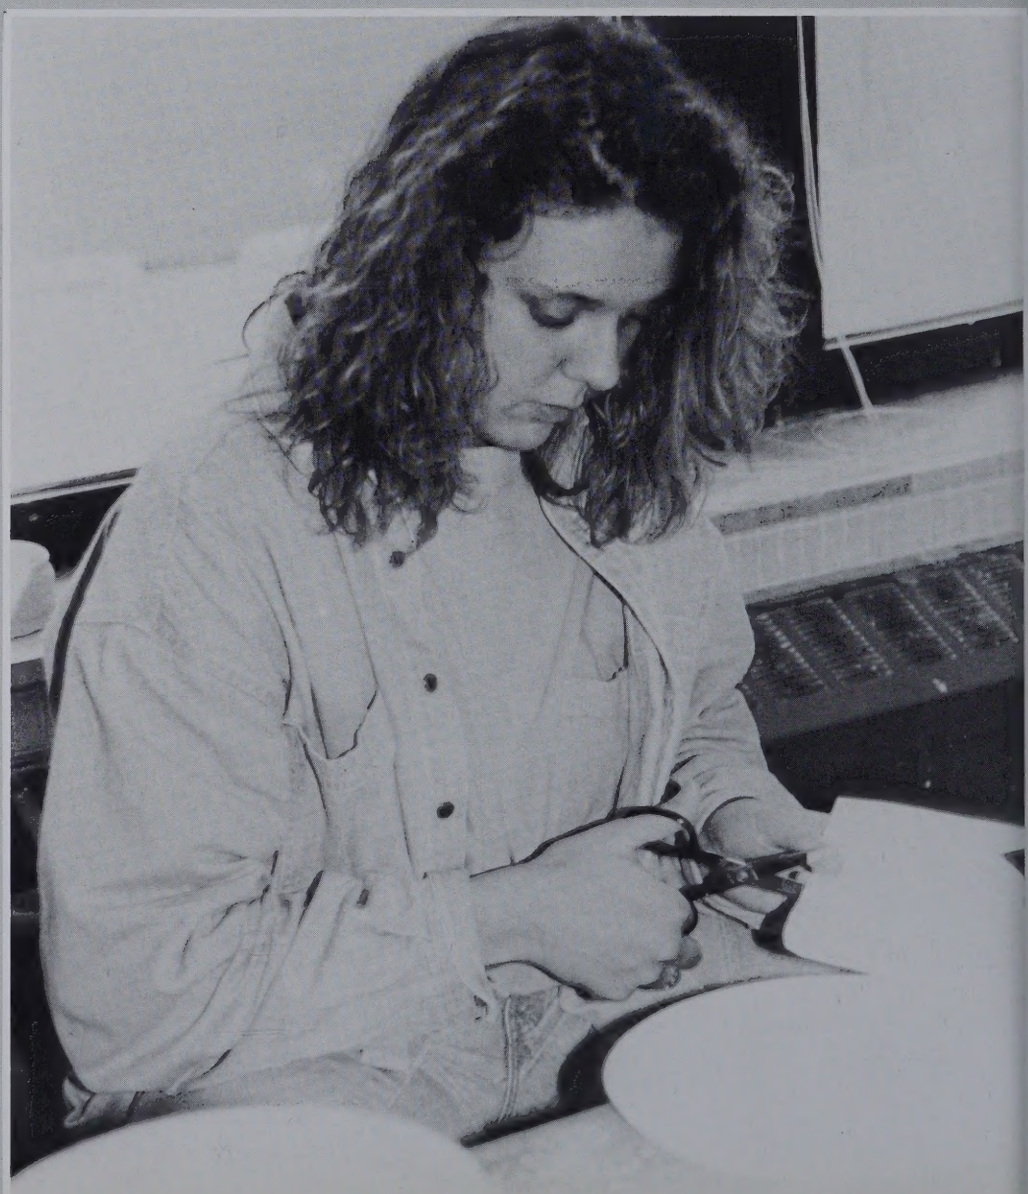
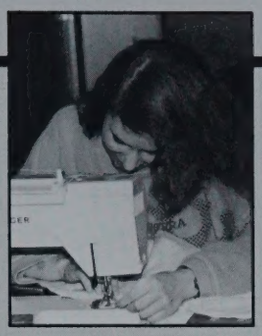
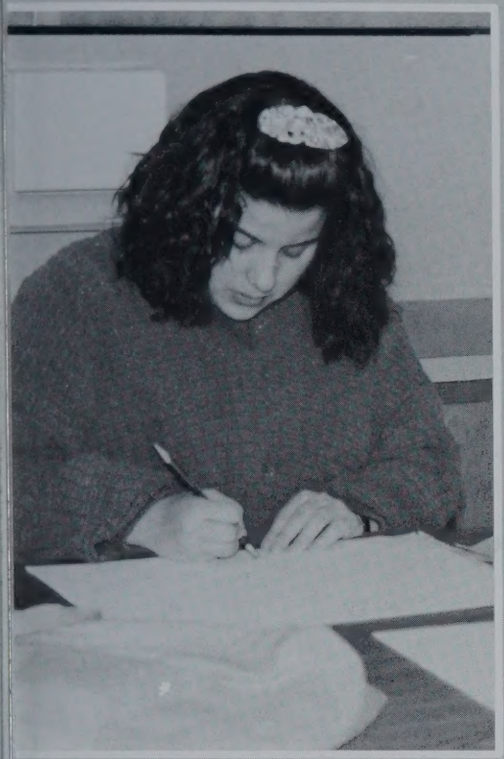
Working in the ceramics area, Mandy Shepherd, above, cleans up as Tara Muzzillo, right, cuts out a pattern for a design she plans to use.





Creativity Lets Imagination Roam

Correcting her latest mistake, Tara Rathburn uses the other end of the pencil on the sketch for her next masterpiece.



Both the Art and Home Economics Departments had classes that were designed to help students find their creativity. These classes allowed the students to choose from different areas of study.

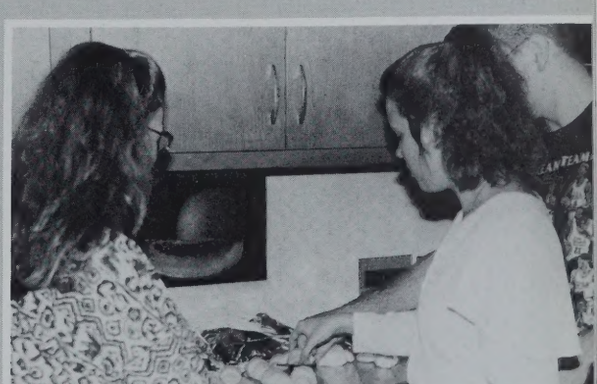
Art classes let the students design whatever their imaginations brought to them.

Students in Drawing and Painting made their traditional visit to the Fair to capture it on paper. Other art students also went on many field trips. Some of the places they went to were Indianapolis, the Art Institute of Chicago, and the Ft. Wayne Museum of Art.

The Home Economics classes had many activites also. Some of the common HomeEc. classes were Foods, Clothing, Housing, Family Care, and Child Development. Some of these classes also did a few projects. Foods classes made Thanksgiving dinner for the teachers and many other meals during the year.

Child Development had a day-care class for comparison and observation of children of different ages. Family Care class had speakers and they prepared a wedding project.

As can be soon, both of these departments encouraged creativity for those students taking Art and Home Ec. classes.



Working on the rolls for a delicious Thanksgiving dinner are foods students Melanie Jones, Dawn Prater, and Phil Miller.

Checking the progress of her noodles as they cook, Jenny Chagoya does a demonstration project for her foods class.

Business classes have all kinds of activities as Natalie Seigel and Kristy Kelley work on their travel project for Introduction to Business.

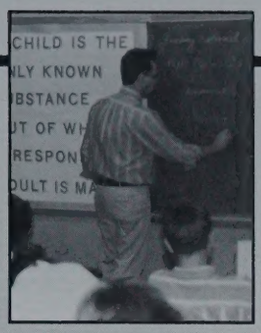
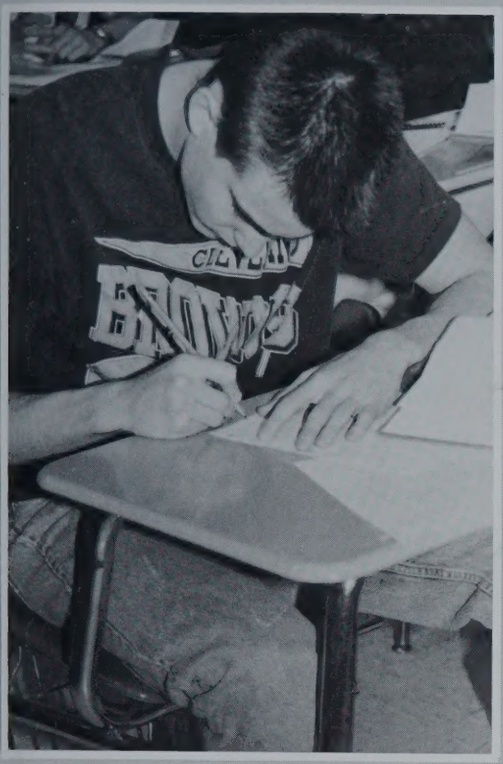
Learning To Figure; Team Places 20th





"Let me see now. What is the answer?" Derrick Bowers is about to run out of paper as he works on his problem in Calculus.

"How do you figure that?" Both the Mathematics and Business Departments offer classes that help answer that question.

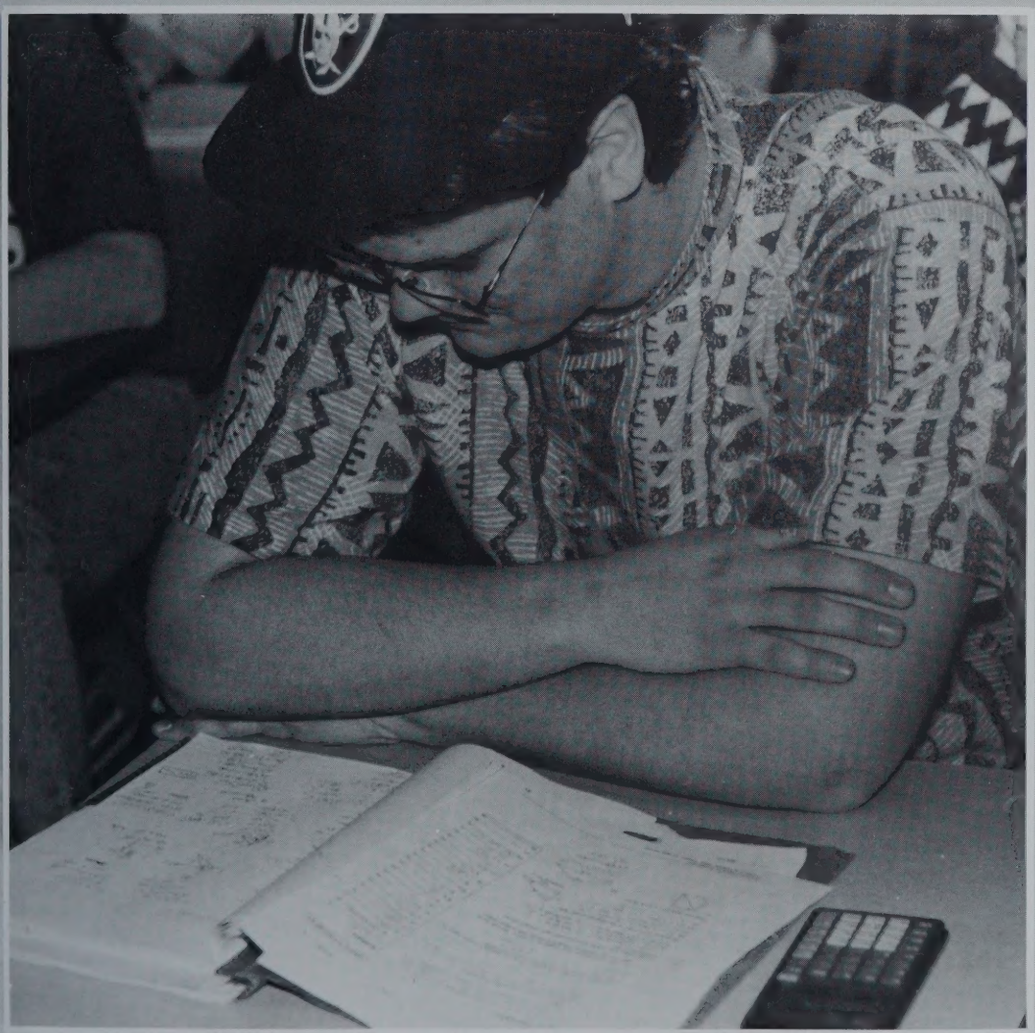
The Math Department classes include eight full year classes and two offered for one semester. For graduation everyone must have two years of math. Classes range from General Math through Calculus.

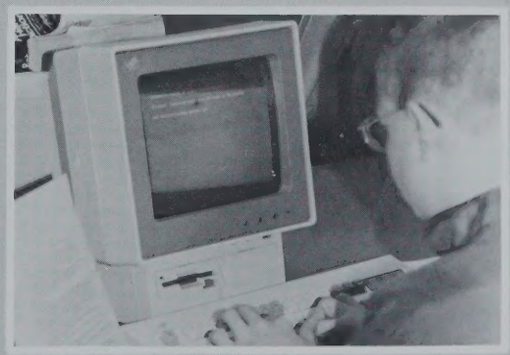
The Business Department has seventeen course offerings, seven of them for one semester. Although all business classes are elective, most students can find something within the department that will be of value to them. Courses are ofered for those planning a secretarial career, including Intensive Business Lab, which involves gaining work experience in the community.

Computer freaks can take two years of classes and future CPA's can study three years of accounting.

Academic Decathlon competition is composed of three levels with ten categories within each division. The team took part in two major meets. At the New Haven Invitational, the entire team placed third in the Super Quiz. Earning first place were Jessica Thomas in Honors Social Science and Jerome Graber in Scholastic Social Science, Fine Arts, and Grammar and Literature.

At the Northridge Regional, the team placed fourth in the large school division, twentieth in the state. Earning first place were Jessica Thomas in Honors Social Science; Amanda Allen, Scholastic Fine Arts; and Jerome Graber, Scholastic Science.





Keep your eyes on the copy, Cory! Cory Mayse works in Mrs. Karyl Penix's Keyboarding class trying to hit as few incorrect keys as possible.

Those geometry problems seem to be getting harder all the time. Ben Pomeroy contemplates the latest assignment.

Taking advantage of a chance to work together in their Spanish I class, Kris King and Tara Epple seem to be enjoying themselves.

Those German IV assignments are sometimes tough! Mike Dendinger and M.C. Gengnagel are deep in thought on theirs.

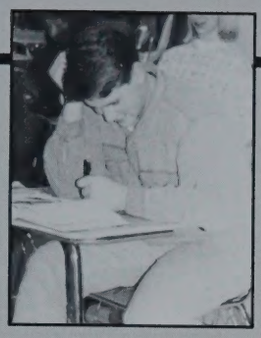
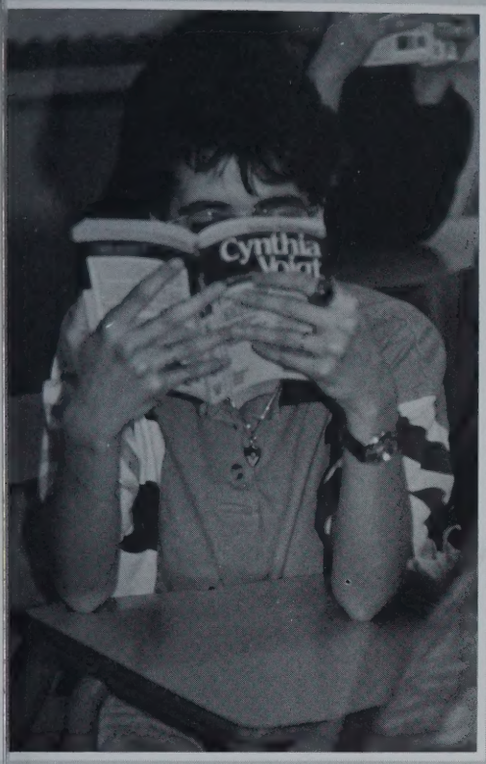
A Way With Words Is Useful Talent



English students get lots of chances to read. Below, Karen Nodine really gets into her book in her English 11S class.

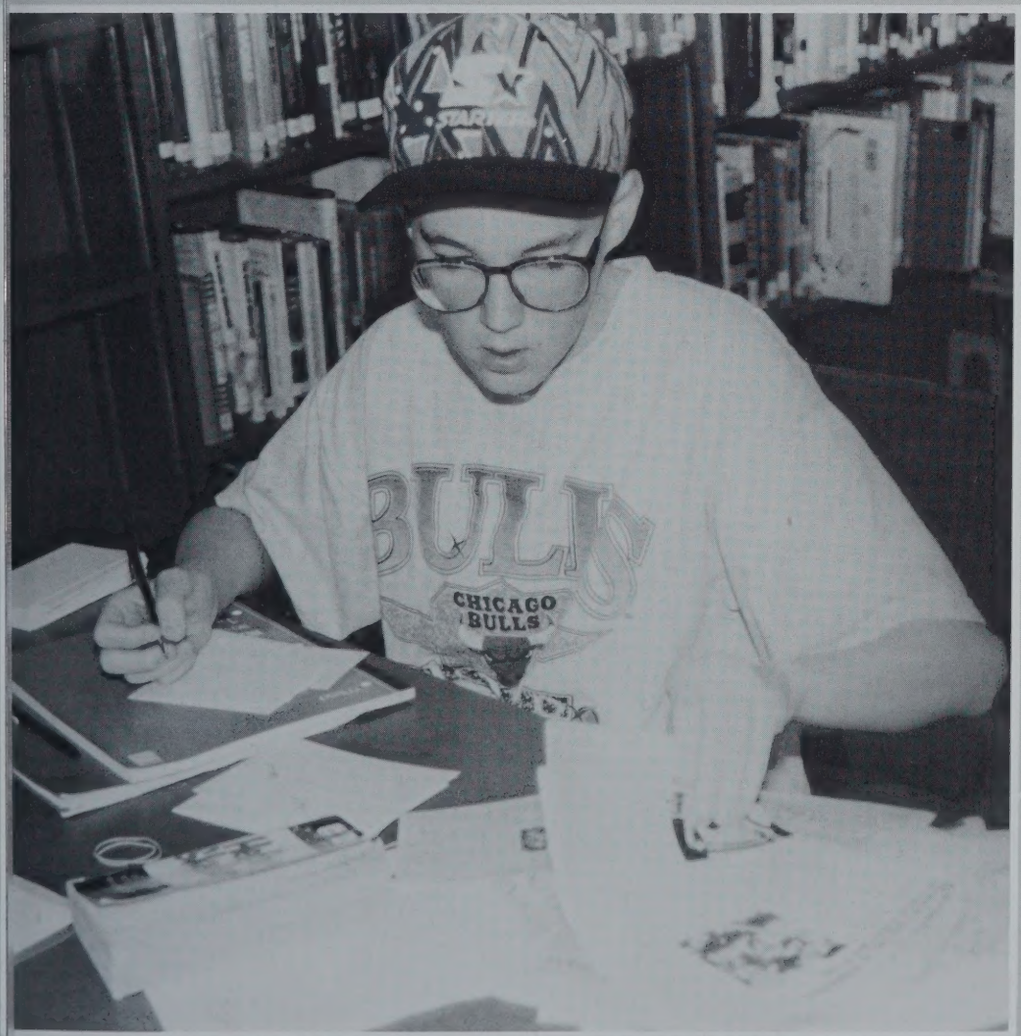


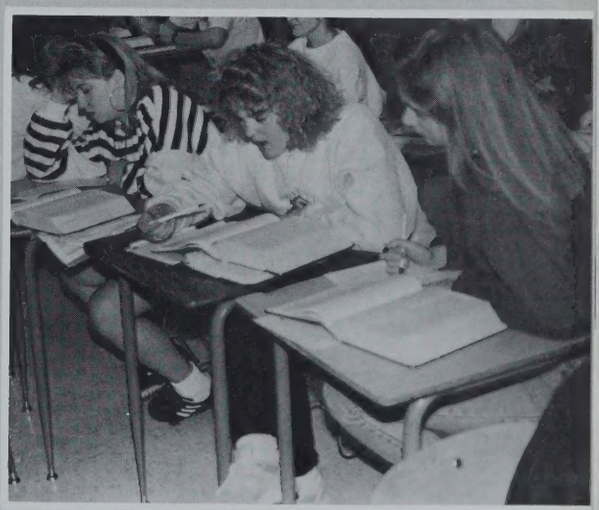
Having a way with words is a talent that some people have naturally. Others have to work very hard at it. The English and Foreign Language Departments try to serve both types of students as well as everyone in between.

Since everyone is required to have eight English credits in order to graduate, the English Department's course offerings are quite varied. Freshmen and sophomores take full year courses that are taught on various levels and include nearly all aspects of communication. A few of them also take elective courses. Besides survey courses, juniors and seniors may choose from a large number of electives including such things as literature, speech, and writing.

Student interest in foreign language study seems to increase every year. Four years each of French, Spanish, and German are available. In addition, a one-semester Spanish speaking class is available for the non-college bound student. All three of the languages include study of the culture in the countries where the language is spoken in addition to the usual study of the language itself.

The Spell Bowl team competed in the fall. At Norwell on Oct. 13, they placed sixth in the Northeast Hoosier Conference. Amy Leffel was First Team all-conference while Christy Jones made the second team. North Side hosted the area meet on Oct. 20. DHS placed second in Class I.





With his 3x5 cards handy, Nate Dennison works in the Media Center gathering information for his research paper on Lyle Alzado.

"What do you think the author meant?" April Kuhlman, Robin Wyatt, and Beth Passek discuss their assignment in English 10S.

Baron Brigade, Brigadiers, Pep Band

Fifth Place Finish Best One Ever

Hard work and determination were two of the prime factors leading to success for the band.

The 1992-1993 Baron Brigade marched into the Indianapolis Hoosier Dome ready to win and marched out with their heads high for a spectacular fifth place. Their best previous showing had been seventh place in the three previous years.

The marching band owes a lot of its color and vision to the Brigadiers. This group of ladies excited the audience and caught the eyes of the judges.

The band also achieved its best showing ever in the ISSMA regional, winning second place Oct. 17. This year's show featured jazz-orientated music from a Broadway musical, "City of Angels." Season accomplishments of the Baron Brigade:

Symphonic, Concert, Jazz Bands Excel

During a testing period for concert band members, Randy West's trumpet section classmates seem amused by what he has just played.

Practicing hard seemed to pay off for all of the bands. The concert band had a successful year at ISSMA coming in with a second division rating. The symphonic band did well at the ISSMA contest, also securing a second division rating.

Jazz Band I did quite well, garnering a first division rating at the ISSMA contest. They also came in ninth place at the Snider Festival and eighth place at the Elmhurst Festival. Jazz Band II also got a first division rating at the ISSMA contest.

These four bands have accomplished a lot. They all performed many concerts and participated in the local and state solo and ensemble contests. Many band members went on the spring trip to the Bahamas and Disney World. Band was a good way to learn new things and meet new people. It's an educating and exhilarating experience.

Jazz Band I members Tom Peet (left) and the dueling trombones of Jim Krill and Greg Johnson (above) step forth for solos during the Fine Arts Jazz Concert.

Students Develop Basic New Skills

t isn't very clean work, as Bruce Bell has liscovered. Below, he works on ramming a mold or a sand casting for Metals III.

A lot of Barons enjoy the Industrial Arts classes which include Woods, Metals, Electricity, and Drafting. Other classes that are placed in the Industrial Arts are Basic Graphic Arts , Basic Auto Mechinics, and Basic Building Trades which is now called Introduction to Construction.

Many of the Barons get a chance to show their creativity. They also can feel good about themselves. These skills they learn now will help them in the near future.

Mr. Ritenour, the teacher of woods class, helps the students learn new skills. In woods class, Barons get a chance to choose most of their projects. One of their required projects is a table.

Metals class students have fun melting the metal and being able to make tremendous designs out of it. Three years of metals classes are available.

Drafting classes are good to have if you plan on becoming an architect or an engineer. Even though this class is good for skills, it also is a lot of fun and gives good enjoyment. Four different drafting classes may be chosen from.

Electricity gives a student good background in learning to rewire a house or learning to fix household appliances. Four levels of electricity classes were available for those interested students.

Basic Auto Mechanics, Basic Graphic Arts and Introduction to Construction help Barons learn basic skills and give them an idea of what some of the jobs will consist of in the future at home or at work.

Growing Abilities For Future Jobs

Vocational classes consist of Agri-Business, Auto Mechanics, Building Trades, Graphic Arts, and Health Occupations Education (HOE).

HOE class gives the student a look at medical research to discover all different kinds of health care vocations. They get a chance to go out into the community and learn more about it.

Building Trades are a step up from Introduction to Construction. In the class students learn how to build houses. It gives a student a good education and skills for a good, long future.

The Auto Mechanics lab is for Barons who want to know how to repair their own automobile or become a mechanic. In this class one of the things that they learn how to do is to rebuild an entire engine.

Vocational Agri-Business students learn a lot of things. They learn about leadership development and animal nutrition. They also learn about how to maintain grain and methods to grow and develop livestock.

Last, but not least, is the Graphic Arts lab, a class that you can take to learn about the paper industry and how to work the printer. The class does a lot of the schol's printing, including the Baron Shield.

All of these classes give Barons a lot of good skills for their future at home or at work.

Randy Stout cleans the parts he wants to use i Auto Mechanics. It's very important to remov all of the grit and grime!

Classic Connection Wins NHC Title

The musical portion of Fine Arts Weekend started Friday evening with a choral concert. Jenny Crager sings a solo during that concert.

A year full of music, challenge, and fun was experienced by the Classic Connection, the show choir. One major highlight came in the early spring when they beat out the other seven schools to become champs of the Northeast Hoosier Conference.

That contest was far from being their only competition. They also placed first at the Bluffton Fair; at Piqua, Ohio; and at Norwell, in addition to a First Place ranking in Group I at the ISSMA contest. They placed second at Carroll and Watseka; third at Pekin and Lawrence Central; and seventh at Bishop Luers.

Along the way, individual aspects of Classic Connection received special recognition at some of these contests. Among the awards received were best vocals, best choreography, best crew, best band, and best costumes.

The group appeared in exhibition at the DeKalb Fair, hosted their own invitational, took part in four school concerts, and appeared at various other school and community functions.

Sound Sensation First at DeKalb Fair

The Classic Connection was not the only way for Barons to express themselves with vocal music, because the vocal department also included the Concert Choir, a girls' choir (called Sound Sensation), and a boys' choir (called Bass Clef).

The vocal music department had four major concerts for the year: Fall, Christmas, Spring, and Pops. They also performed at some school convos.

The Concert Choir is a mixed group that studies and performs a wide range of vocal music. Besides the school concerts, they also took part in the ISSMA contest, where they received a first place rating.

Sound Sensation also placed first at the ISSMA contest. They also were the top rated group at the DeKalb Fair, Lawrence Central and Norwell. They also appeared at the Northrop Spectacular, Millikin, and Watseka, in addition to taking part in the school concerts.

Bass Clef placed first at the Lawrence Central contest and placed fifth at Watseka. As can be seen, no interested Baron has a good excuse for not taking part in the vocal music department if he or she feels so inclined.

Social Studies Team Second in NHC

It is impossible to graduate without taking classes in both the Science and Social Studies Departments because two years of study are required in both departments.

Science Department requirements are for one year of life science and one year of physical science, but much more than that is available. Everything from Earth Science to Advanced Placement Chemistry could be taken. Other offerings include three biology classes, Microbiology, and Human Anatomy and Physiology.

Required Social Studies classes are United States history and government and economics. These classes are available on more than one level. Also available were such classes as Cadet Teaching, Psychology, World Geography, and Current Social Problems.

Super Bowl competition was held in the spring. At the Paul Harding Invitational, the team placed second in Interdisciplinary and third in Social Studies. At the Northeast Hoosier Conference meet at Norwell, the Social Studies team of Tom Peet, Wade Marsh, Carrie Johnson, Amanda Allen, and Jessica Thomas placed second. The Super Bowl team failed to place in the top three in the Area Meet held at New Haven.

The local Science Fair attracted many entries including Carl Drew's study of "The Reduction of Aquatic Plant Height."

Two New Courses Aid Student Fitness

The Physical Education Department offers courses that are required for the first two years of high school. Freshmen are required to take one semester each of Health and Driver Ed Book. Health class puts special emphasis on the interests and problems of teenagers.

Sophomores are required to take a full year of Physical Education. The courses for both boys and girls deal with developing skills designed to promote physical fittness. They also learn the techniques and rules involved in various sports.

The PE Department has several elective classes. Quest's goal is to improve the value of family life and promote positive mental health. In addition to keeping a written journal, Quest students take part in a lot of group discussions.

Substance Abuse helps students understand the physical, mental, psychological, and social effects of various substances on the human system.

Two elective Advanced PE classes were added in 1992-93. The focus of one was physical fitness, while the second one gave its students the chance to develop their skeletal muscular strength by working out in the weight room. Students in this class were required to develop their own fitness/lifting programs to meet their own individual needs.

Shawna Skelding Leads Student Government

Student government at DHS is the Student Council. Members consist of elected representatives from each of the four classes in addition to the class officers. Council officers are elected by the student body.

The Student Council was busy doing what it could to represent the interests of their fellow students and plan activities throughout the year. They sponsored the very popular Powder Puff football game in the fall.

The Focus on Health program and the visit of the Bloodmobile were two programs that showed the Council's concern for our welfare.

Coordinating the Adopt-a-Kid program in conjunction with other schools in the DeKalb Central district was another project, along with planning the second annual Baron Field Day.

The Student Council was sponsored by Mr. Rod Knox and Ms. Jan McCullough.

Involvement Is Key For Gordon's Groups

Two very active groups, National Honor Society and SADD, are sponsored by Mrs. Tita Gordon. National Honor Society's major purpose is to promote scholarship and provide service. They provide their services by tutoring high school, middle school, and grade school students.

NHS also sponsored a dance and date auction, a bowlathon, and a skatathon. A special project sponsored by NHS was a two-week "How to Study" course for freshmen that was held in the fall.

SADD attempts to prevent drinking and driving. The SADD chapter sponsored a lot of activities, including some dances. At Christmas time they sold trees. SADD also sponsored a roller skat-athon as a fund raiser. SADD sponsored the prom convo and organized a lot of the after-prom activities.

Fairchild Places Fifth In State For Poetry

The Speech Team and the Literary Club both had very successful years.

The Speech Team allows the students to have the opportunity to compete against other students from various schools in one-on-one competition. The Speech Team's competiton began in October. They had 15 meets. In that time they were conference champs, got second in sectional, and seventh in regional. Valarie Fairchild got 5th in state for Poetry.

The Speech Team's Senior Council was Karla Kelleher, Valarie Fairchild, Marc Bowling, and Trent Johnson.

Literary Club had a very exciting year as well. They organized a book fair and candy sales. They had concession sales and ushering at the fall play and spring musical.

The Literary Club also maintained and operated the Book Nook. The purpose for the organization is to promote culture through a variety of exposures. Officers were Mandy Paray, President; Jenny Beaty, Vice-President; Angie Skelly, Secretary; and Suzy McDonald, Treasurer.

Letterwinners, Artists Have Concessions, Dance

Those Barons who like to be active could join the Letterwinners Club. This club funds the athletic picture project in the upstairs and downstairs hallways. They also purchased large items for everyone's use.

To earn money they sold items at the concession stands at home basketball games. Those who worked earned points toward t-shirts and patches. The top winners got special prizes.

Another group that people like to join is the Art Club, which promotes art activities and raises scholarship money. Community service is also a leading part of the club.

Art Club did window painting on some downtown businesses. They decorated the commons for the semi-formal Valentines Dance, which they sponsored and sold concessions at a football game. Art Club's exective council was Mat Rupert, Melissa Eberly, Grant Stupeck, Candy Cluster, and Amy Leffel.

'Future' Clubs Work; Skiers Have Fun

Two DHS clubs with a "future" were Future Educators in Action and Future Homemakers of America.

FEA helps assist those who intend to further their education in teaching and related fields. Their activities included selling Christmas treegrams and "Foolgrams" at the beginning of April. They also had a bake sale and made teacher gifts (treats).

FHA is set up to help develop interests in home economics and career possibilities. Some of their activities included a club trip to the botanical gardens, attending children's workshops, a pot luck for Thanksgiving, a district meeting, and making crafts for teachers.

Ski Club is another interesting group. During the season they went every Thursday to Timber Ridge Ski Resort in Kalamazoo, Michigan. A big turn out for the Ski Club this year brought in about 63 students.

This club was not only for skiers but also for beginners.

Two of DeKalb's finest skiers seem to be wondering whether this slope will be gentle enough for them.

Lynda Stoops Places Third In The State

Another busy and successful year was experienced by FFA, an organization for students interested in agri-business. In the summer of 1992 they attended the state convention at Purdue University, where Lynda Stoops placed third in the state for public speaking.

FFA teams took part in contests throughout the year. Outstanding results included the livestock judging team of Matt Taylor, Mike Taylor, Bruce Bell, and Joe Richter making it to state, a first for DHS livestock judging teams. Also, the Farm Business Management team placed third in the state.

FFA also had a basketball team which played other teams from the area. They were undefeated in the ten games that they completed. Fund raiding projects to help pay for the group's activities consisted of selling fruit and pop corn.

For Ag Week, FFA gave each teacher a small jug of honey. Ag Day found FFA members conducting tours at the Deetz farm.

Another FFA project in the spring involved bagging about 400 trees to be given to fourth graders in the school district to help them learn about conservation.

FFA officers were President Bruce Bell; Vice-President Joe Richter; Secretary David Hefty; Treasurer Mike Taylor; Reporter Chad Days; Sentinel Matt Taylor; and Student Advisor Bobby Long.

FCA gives the students and athletes a positive alternative. Activities included a hayride at Roger Deetz's home in the fall and going Christmas caroling. They also sponsored a game between the faculty and WMEE on March 3rd. They went to a Cubs vs. Reds baseball game on April 25th.

Language Clubs Learn Different Cultures

French and German clubs are involved in a lot of activities. The purpose for these clubs is to get the kids together to have fun while learning about the culture of their particular language.

The French Club worked the football concessions and bagged groceries at Scott's for Cancer Day in the fall. They went to a French restaurant for dinner and had a Mardi Gras Party in the spring.

French Club officers were Jenny Pressler, President; Amy Leffel, Vice-President; Jeanine LaRue, Secretary; and Sarah Levy, Treasurer.

The German Club was also very active. They sponsored a dance after a game and organized and ran the coat check during basketball games. The German Club also ran the baseball concessions during the spring. On April 21, the club went to Frankenmuth, Michigan, to experience the German culture within the United States.

German Club officers were Ashlee Dunn, President; Ty Kempf, Vice-President; Kari Price, Secretary; and Simon Short, Treasurer.

The Foreign Language Banquet always presents a bewildering as well as a tempting array of food, as Chad Lawson has discovered.

Spanish Club Plans Language Banquet

The Spanish Club had a special purpose: to promote a better understanding of the Spanish language and Hispanic customs and holidays. It also encourged community service. The club raised money for scholarships for outstanding Spanish students. The Spanish Club members helped to teach each other leadership and socialization skills.

This organization's activities included working at a football game concessions stand. They sponsored a dance; the theme was "Sock Hop." Spanish Club went Christmas caroling at the Betz Nursing Home and went to Chi Chi's twice: for Christmas and for an awards banquet. Officers were Andrew Hayes,President; Scott Greer, Vice-president; Trish Korff, Secretary; and Molly Tomaszewski, Treasurer.

The Spanish Club also sponsored the Annual Foreign Language Banquet on March 8. The theme was "Peace." After the food was consumed, a culture quiz with prizes was held.

Clevenger Wins First At Nat'l Convention

Two major publications are produced at DHS each year: the school newspaper and the yearbook.

The Baron Shield, sponsored by Mrs. Dottie Heminger, was a very informative way to learn about DeKalb. Natalie Gallogly and Scott Clevenger were the co-Editors-in-Chief. Candy Cluster (first semester) and Christy Jones (second semester) were the business managers.

The Baron Shield staff was responsible for all aspects except printing involved in production of the nine issues for the 1992-93 school year.

The staff participated in field trips to IPFW for Journalism Day and to Columbus, Ohio, for the JEA/NHSPA national convention.

At the JEA/NHSPA national convention, Scott Clevenger received first place for his review in the write-off contest. Christy Jones received an honorable mention for her feature article.

The yearbook staff, sponsored by Mrs. Kay Finchum, consisted of eight people who did many things to complete the 1992-93 yearbook. Some of these included writing body copy, taking pictures, drawing layouts, etc. The DHS yearbook is a great way to remember all the important moments of our high school career.

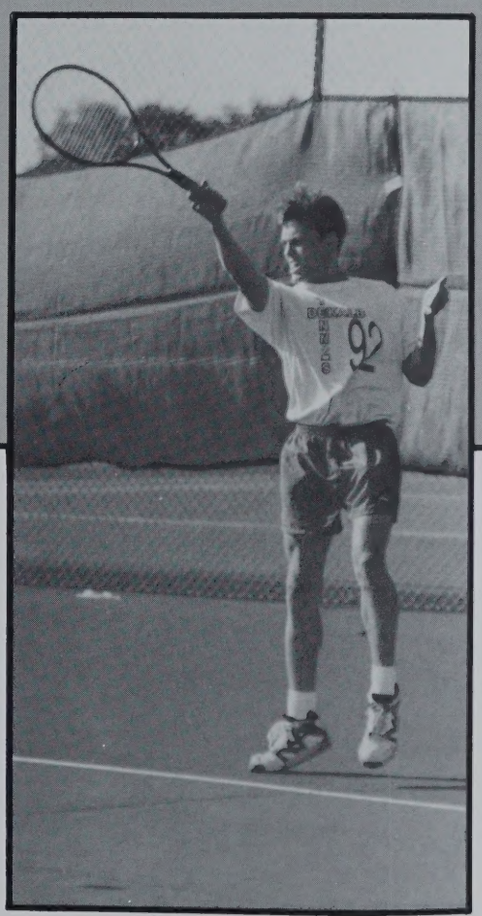
Dendinger Sets School Record

On the way to its highly successful 13-3 season record, the boys' tennis team was shut out only one time, by Northeast Hoosier Conference champion Homestead, so they finished second in the NHC with a record of 6-1 against conference opponents.

The team also placed first in the eight-team field at their own invitational and first in the four-team field at the Fort Wayne North Side Invitational.

Senior leadership came from Mike Dendinger, number one singles player, whose 18-3 season record gave him a 69-13 career record. This made him the new leader in all-time wins in tennis at DHS. Dendinger was named to the All-Conference First Team.

Named to the conference second team was sophomore Derek Markley, whose season record was 19 wins and 2 losses. Making honorable mention in the NHC were the number three singles man, sophomore Paul Wrona (19-2), and the number one doubles team of juniors Scott Greer and Andy Hayes. Rounding out the varsity at number two doubles were junior Roger Deetz and senior Seth Paske, whose record for the season stood at 14-6.



Playing from the baseline, senior Seth Paske returns the ball. He had a 14-6 season record playing at number two doubles.

With Perfect Dual Record

Girls Take Eighth At State Finals

An eighth place finish at state capped a very successful season for the girls cross country team. Undefeated in regular meets, the girls opened their special meets season with an impressive win at Snider's Hokum Karum. They also surprised some people with their first place finish in the semi-state.

Winning the conference was another feather in the girls' cap. Four runners made first team in the conference: Missy Lyne, Jenny Recker, Justine Wells, and Cheryl Conrad. Kim Reinoehl made the NHC second team. Leading the race most of the way, Lyne was nosed out near the end by East Noble's Amy Yoder. Lyne finished 25th at state with a time of 15:01, which was close to her best time of 14:54, recorded at the Manchester Invitational.

The road to the state started with a first place finish at the East Noble sectional, where Lyne, Recker, Wells, Conrad, and Kami Rathburn made the all-sectional team.

Runners Qualify For Semi-State

The boys cross counry team had a hard time keeping up with their female counterparts, but they managed to keep up their end of the deal to sweep both sides of the NHC for the second year in a row.

It was a true team effort at the Conference meet held at Bellmont High School. Andy Schmidt and Jeremy Shankster ran well enough to make the first team all-NHC, while Brad Miller and Andy McCanna placed high enough in the standings to make the conference second team.

After they placed third in sectional, not many people gave the boys' team much of a chance at regional, but they managed to advance to semi-state by placing fourth at regional. Andy Schmidt, who came out for the team after the season started, was the only Baron to make the all-sectional team.

Experience Pays Off

Sectional Victory Caps 22-12 Year

Experience paid off for the varsity volleyball team as they had a winning 22-12 season and were again champions of the Eastside sectional. Their 5-2 record against Northeast Hoosier Conference opponents placed them third in the NHC.

In invitational action, they placed second at Elmhurst and third at Whitko.

Although teamwork is always a key ingredient for any successful season, individual members of the team made some significant contributions. For example, Tiffany Cook was the leading setter with a total of 590 assists.

Serving leaders included Heather Zeigler with 90 aces. Holly Quickery had 68 aces and Annie Recker recorded 51 serving aces. Four varsity members did well in the hitting department. Wendy Recker was tops with 260 kills for the season. She was followed by Heather Zeigler (189 kills), Annie Recker (136 kills), and Kari Price (105 kills).

On the defensive side, Annie Recker had 218 digs, closely followed by Holly Quickery and Heather Zeigler, both of whom had 193 digs. Wendy Recker was, by far, the team leader in blocking with 192, with Heather Zeigler's 88 blocks being second on the team.

The volleyball season ended for the Barons when they lost to a powerful Snider team in the semi-finals of the Fort Wayne Regional.

Underclasses Learn As They Win, Lose

Below the varsity level in football and volleyball, there was good news and bad news in both sports. In football, the freshmen had a 6-2 season, while the reserves were 2-5. The freshman volleyballers had a 10-11 season, but the 17-10 record of the reserves was a positive result.

The reserve team in volleyball won the Westview Invitational Champion in addition to placing third at Bellmont's Invitational. Their top hitters were Sarah Levy, Jenny Barnett, and Meagan Bechdol. Top setters included Minde Lewis and Jaime Mitchell.

Top servers for the freshmen were Tina Likens and Melanie Gee. Top hitters included Natalie Seigel, Penny Sanders, and Angie McKean. Leading setters were Shannon O'Dell and Tina Likens. Katie Turner was the team's top defensive specialist.

Junior varsity football players who got enough playing time to compile some statistics included Steve Hancock, with 34 tackles; Ryan Carper, with 221 yards gained rushing; and Garrison Kenner, with 126 passing yards.

We're Number One!

Barons Briefly Rise To Top Of State List

"We're Number One!" It's a chant used by sports fans everywhere. And for one glorious week, it was true of the 1992 football Barons. In week seven of the season, the state rankings listed DeKalb at the top of the 4A list. Although the loss the following week moved them back down, being ranked number one was fun while it lasted.

The conference co-championship with Homestead and sectional championship were other highlights of the season which ended with a tough to Wayne 15-17 in the regional.

During the season, the Barons more than doubled the score on their opponents 287 to 126. The offense gained an average of 6.46 yards per attempt while the defense allowed only 4.56 yards per attempt.

Sophomore quarterback Brad Weber set a new school record by passing for 1579 yards. He completed 125 out of 240 pass attempts, scoring 12 touchdowns and one point after. He was intercepted only nine times. Weber also was the punter, with the longest of his 35 punts going 48 yards.

A second school record was set by Jon Bickel, who had 185 total tackles. He also recovered three fumbles and made three interceptions. On offense Bickel carried the ball for 626 yards, scoring 9 of his 12 touchdowns rushing.

Speedster Grant Detrick set two new school records, both involving kickoff returns. He ran back four of them for touchdowns, and the longest return that he made was for 99 yards.

First Team all-NHC honors went to several Barons: Brad Weber, Todd Stayer, Lee Pettyjohn, Bruce Bell, Don McKean, Jon Bickel, Kadish Evans, and Grant Detrick.

Heading upfield, Jon Bickel (44) goes for a long gain in the Homecoming game. His longest run for the season was for 60 yards.

For Senior Leadership

Hayes, Skelding Set Standards

Improvement was a key word for the 1992 version of the DeKalb Baron girls' golf team. The varsity squad consisted of two seniors (Amy Hayes and Shawna Skelding) and four juniors (Nicki Houser, Amy Oswalt, Jaimi Tompkins, and Shannon Wade). The reserve team members were three juniors (Andrea Pettis, Carmen Potter, and Nicole Whittington) and two sophomores (Shallon Bush and Lori Schrimshaw).

The season got underway on August 10 with a three-way meet against Goshen and Wawasee, which the girls ended up splitting. They went on to win four more matches on their way to a 5-8 record, the most wins ever for Baron girls' golf.

Every member of the team shot in the 50's at least once during the season. The most improved golfer was Amy Hayes. Amy Oswalt led the team with the lowest average of strokes taken on the putting green. Team leader Shawna Skelding was named by coach Pam Schultz as having the Best Mental Attitude. Skelding's 45 was the best 9-hole score of the season.

After placing fifth in the Northeast Hoosier Conference meet on September 19, the girls' season ended on September 26 at Colonial Oaks when their 480 earned them a seventh place finish in the sectional.

It's Not Just Yelling

Cheerleaders Have Dedication, Spirit

For some of us, the summer of 1992 didn't mean sleeping in and sun bathing. The cheerleaders started practicing in June. They practiced at 6:00 a.m. two or three days a week all summer.

The cheerleaders also attended summer camps and competitions. The freshmen, junior varsity, and varsity squads all won first place at the Garrett Heritage Days cheer competition. The varsity cheerleaders placed 15th in the Indiana State Fair Competition; this was the first-ever squad to place at the State Fair.

Also, the squad, once again, received a bid to the CAMAN Challenge Cup at Myrtle Beach, S.C., in March of 1993.

Usually, the winter cheerleaders squad consists of the same people all season; however, this year they chose to have a separate squad for the girls' basketball team. All of the cheerleading squads were also busy supporting the other athletic teams during their season by doing such things as attending some of their competitions and making signs to encourage everyone to support them.

As can be seen, DHS cheerleaders are involved in a lot more than just standing on the sidelines and cheering for the players, as many on-lookers seem to think!

To Semi-State Action

Oberlin, Hancock, Mossing Advance

The Baron varsity wrestlers pinned down another winning season with their 11-6-1 record in dual meets. The junior varsity also did well with its 7-3 mark.

Andy Oberlin, who was ranked as high as 12th in the state for 119 pounders, led the team in several categories. He had the best record (27-4), most decisions (14), most points (408), most takedowns (50), most two-point near falls (22), and most three-point near falls (21). Oberlin placed first at East Noble and sectional. After placing second in regional, Andy lost to eventual state champ Tim Meyers from Northeast Hoosier Conference rival Bellmont.

Also going to semi-state were 182 pounder Steve Hancock, who lost to Kyle Krick of Norwell after defeating Elwood's Jason Ryan. Jason Mossing (112 pounds) lost in the first round at semi-state to Shaun Baumert of Woodlan. During the regular season, Mossing recorded the fastest fall in 24 seconds.

Other individual bests were held by 130 pounder James Forbes, who had the most falls at 14. Forbes placed first at sectional. John Stoy (125 pounds) had 29 reversals and Jer Parker (152 pounds) had the most escapes (34).

The leading junior varsity wrestlers were James DeWitt (125 pounds), whose record was 5-0 and whose fastest fall took only 20 seconds, and Joe Wurm (189 pounds), who scored the most points with 148.

For 3-Point Shooting

Andy Schmidt Wins State Championship

State Champ! No, the 8-13 record of the varsity boys' basketball team did not qualify them for that honor. But in the inaugural year of the IHSAA's three-point shooting and slam dunk championships, DeKalb did have a state champ!

After Andy Schmidt qualified to represent our semi-state on Friday night, his 14 out of 25 shots at half-time of the first semi-final game in the Hoosier Dome on Saturday, March 27, made him the first-ever Indiana three-point shooting State Champ.

As stated earlier, the team as a whole didn't do as well. Their 2-5 conference record tied them for sixth in the NHC. They lost to New Haven by two points in the first game of the conference tourney and to Fremont by one point in the semi-finals of the sectional.

As might be expected, Andy Schmidt was the team's leading scorer with 451 points, 186 of them coming from three point shots. He was followed in scoring by Derrick Bowers (197), Mike Christner (159), and Josh Barnett (157). The leading rebounder was Derrick Bowers with 156 total rebounds, 110 of them defensive. Mike Christner, with 57, was the leading offensive rebounder.

Shooting percentage leaders from the field were Derrick Bowers and Mike Christner, both at 56 per cent, while the team hit 42.3 per cent of its shots. Schmidt, at 80 per cent, led the free throw list, with the team average being 63.6 from the charity stripe.

Josh Barnett, with 63, and Chad Ginder, with 58, were the assit leaders, while leaper Derrick Bowers had 12 blocked shots.

While Gaining Experience

Frosh Win First 12; Reserves Go 10-12

The two underclass boys' basketball teams had a combined record of 25-15, with the junior varsity recording a 10-12 season while the freshmen had a 15-3 year.

The junior varsity had trouble putting together any kind of a winning streak, but their longest losing streak of three came early in the season. Top scorers for the reserves were Jason Magnuson with 259 points and Ben Seigel with 193 points. Assist leaders were Ryan Rediger (44) and Jason Ulm (36).

Richie Minnick was the best from the free throw line with a 77 per cent average. The top shooters from the field included Jeremy Weaver, 52 per cent, and Jason Magnuson, 46 per cent.

The freshman team started with a 12 game win streak until they ran into Columbia City for a second time at the Homestead Tourney. The top scorers for the freshmen and their averages per game were Jon Leslie (12.1), Kris Bloom (7.4), Kerry Vick (7), Joey Nack (6.5), and Damian Dunn (6.3).

Mitchell Places 9th On Beam At State

Northeast Indiana is very strong in gymnastics, with several of the state's top teams being in this area. This competition brought out the best in the Barons, with the varsity ending up with a 13-2 dual record. The reserve record was also good at 12-2. The varsity scored in the 90's fourteen times, with the best score of 95.35 coming against East Noble and Lakeland.

New school records were set in two events with 25.65 on the floor and 24.0 on the bars. The reserves set one event record when they scored 22.2 on the floor.

Jaime Mitchell was the top varsity gymnast, advancing to the state on the beam, where she scored 8.75 to place ninth. Mitchell also set new school records. At sectional she set a record of 8.8 on bars, breaking her record set earlier at the NHC meet of 8.6. Mitchell also set a new all-around mark of 34.6, breaking her own record of 33.95 established against Snider.

Reserve gymnast Kelly Meyer set a new record on the bars of 7.8 against Elmhurst and Carroll.

Wendy, Annie Lead Team to Trophy

The varsity Lady Baron basketball season was unspectacular, ending with a 11-10 record. They averaged 59.9 points per game while their opponents were held to an average of 58.3 points per game.

Leading the team in scoring were the Recker sisters, Wendy and Annie. Wendy's 311 points figured out to an average of 14.8 per game, while Annie averaged 13.7 with her 288 total points. Next highest on the scoring list was Tara Muzzillo, who averaged 9.4 points per game while contributing 197 total points.

The team did not shoot exceptionally well, making 37 percent of its field goal attempts and only 56 percent of the free throws attempted. Sarah Levy had the best field goal average (47 percent) while Annie Recker's 68 percent was tops for free throws.

Leading rebounders were Tara Muzzillo with 168 and Sarah Levy with 153. Muzzillo by far had the most blocked shots with 31 of the team's 52. Wendy Recker was tops as the assist leader with 110 and the steals leader with 60 for the season.

The Lady Barons placed fifth in the NHC with a 3-4 record against conference opponents. In post-season tournament action, after defeating Garrett to win the Garrett sectional, they lost to a powerful Northrop team in the regional semi-final game.

It Was A Struggle

Reserves, Freshmen Have Losing Seasons

Both the junior varsity and freshman girls' basketball teams struggled for respectability throughout the season. The junior varsity team ended up with a 7-9 record, 3-4 against conference foes.

The junior varsity team shot 31 percent from the field, with their best game being against Homestead, when they hit 50 percent of their shots. Their free throw average was 43 percent, with their most outstanding effort from the line coming against Bellmont, when they hit 83 percent of their shots. The team's top scorer and rebounder was Julie Conrad.

Four juniors received reserve awards: Jeanine LaRue, Karen Nodine, Missy Ponko, and Steph Sprague. Three sophomores also received reserve awards: Julie Conrad, Teresa Glick, and Robin Wyatt.

The freshman girls had a disappointing record of 3 wins and 11 losses. Ball handling was not their strong point as they had an average of 32 turnovers per game.

Leading scorers for the freshmen and their averages were Lori Pfister, 5.6 ppg; Jill Hoffmeister, 4.2 ppg; and Aimee Garrison, 4.0 ppg. The leading freshman rebounders were Lori Pfister, 6.0 rpg; Angie McKean, 4.5 rpg; and Aimee Garrison, 3.9 rpg.

In 800 Meter Run

Shankster Places Second At State

In spite of the fact that returning record holder and state finalist hurdler Derrick Bowers was injured for most of the season and unable to compete, the boys' track team had a very respectable dual record of 6-3. They also did well at most of the major meets they attended, coming in first at the Oak Hill Relays.

Scoring the most points for the varsity was senior middle distance specialist Jeremy Shankster. He recorded nearly twice as many points as his closest teammate. The highlight of Shankster's season came at the state meet, where he placed second to the same runner who beat him in the regional in the 800 meter run. Shankster set a new school record of 1:54.41 in the 800 meters. He also won conference and sectional in the 800 and was second in the NHC 1600 meter run.

Part of Shankster's points came from being a member of the record setting 1600 meter relay team along with Brad McBride, Seth Paske, and Matt Meyer. Their new record was 3 minutes 23.36 seconds. Allen Knott and Derrick Bowers also occasionally ran the 4 x 400 relay. The team of Shankster, McBride, Paske, and Meyer failed to place at state after coming in third at regional.

A third school record was set by the 400 meter relay team composed of Matt Meyer, Brian Cashdollar, Tyson Handshoe, and Nick Tarlton. Their record setting time of 44.40 was clocked at the conference meet, where they placed second. Tarlton also was second in the NHC 200 meters.

Honorable mention in the conference went to Mike Aldrich in the pole vault and Brad McBride in the 400 meters.

Besides those named already, others who earned at least 30 varsity points were Andy Schmidt and Logan Kempf.

To Come In Second

Lyne Sets Record In State 3200 Run

With a 6-2 dual meet record, the girls' track team's season was definitely above average. Although they didn't win any of the major meets they attended, some outstanding individual and relay team efforts helped them to place either second or third.

One runner who could always be counted on was junior distance specialist Missy Lyne. Her year wasn't over until the state meet, where she ran a personal best and school record time in the 3200 meter race of 11:04.49 to place second. She had set the regional record with a time of 11:10.17 the week before. She had also qualified for state in the 1600 meters by placing third in regional with a school record time of 5:12.0, but decided to concentrate on the 3200 at state.

Another highlight was the performance of the 400 meter relay team of Kelly Morrow, Aimee Bishop, Stacy Leins, and Shannon Wolff. They set a new school record of 50.9 seconds in that event when they won the race at the Oak Hill Relays, which was also a meet record. The 400 meter relay team also won the East Noble Relays and were sectional champions.

Shannon Wolff also did well in the 100 meter race. She set a new school record at 12.5 seconds. She also won the championship in the 100 meters at Oak Hill, East Noble, and sectional, being named the meet MVP at East Noble.

Two other relay teams set records at the Oak Hill meet. The 3200 meter relay team (Darlene Schoudel, Missy Lynn, Kami Rathburn, and Jenny Recker) was clocked in10:13.5. The distance medley relay team (Jenny Recker, Janet Kiefer, Missy Lyne, and Shannon Wolff) set a new record of 9:28.4.

The best performances in field events came from Amanda Hower, NHC shot put champion, and Shannen Amburgey, East Noble Relays discus champion.

Team Depth Shows In Varsity, Reserves

With a large turn-out for the early golf team practices, the first thing that the coaches had to do was decide who would make the team and who would play varsity. Inconsistent play by some of the golfers meant that the five players designated as varsity changed from match to match.

When it was all over, the team emerged with an 8-3 record in regular meets. Their best finish in 18 hole tournaments was second out of sixteen at Angola and the worst was their last place finish in the conference.

The top three golfers all had averages under 42: Andy Hayes (41.2), Jason Magnuson (41.5), and Andy McComb (41.9). Mike Nichter's 9 hole average was 42.8, but he shot an 80 at sectional and advanced to the regional as an individual. Three more golfers had averages between 44 and 45: Jason Mossing (44), Nathan Gaier (44.1), and Keith Pasqualone (44.5).

The reserve team scores showed the depth of the team because they lost only one of their eleven matches, sometimes having a score nearly equal to the varsity score.

Trip to Semi-State Caps 16-3 Season

No DHS girls' tennis team had ever advanced to the semi-state before, so when the team defeated Manchester 4-1 in the regional finals, everyone was thrilled. They had put together quite a winning streak of 12 victories in a row after losing two of their first six matches.

The only losing record for the team was at the number one singles, where Melissa Sutton's record was 11-14. She placed second at DeKalb and fourth at Angola.

A new school record for most season wins was set by exchange student Nancy Kabalt at number two singles. With a 24-2 record, she was first at both DeKalb and Angola. Kabalt was named to the NHC first team.

Tina Gurtner, at number three singles, had a 17-7 season, placing second at DeKalb and fifth at Angola.

The number one doubles team of Trish Korff and Julie Harris had a 20-4 record as they advanced to the state. They placed first at DeKalb and second at Angola in addition to making second team in the NHC.

Making the first team in the conference at number two doubles were Brooke Henderson and Amy Hayes, with their 20-5 record. They were first at DeKalb and second at Angola.

The JV team's record was 9-4, with all three singles players having good records: Emily Roberts (14-1), Abby Horrom (12-2), and Dawn Strawbridge (12-3).

Twenty-four In A Row

Opening Win Streak Is School Record

It was a year of highs and lows for the baseball Barons. Unfortunately, the low came at the end of the season when they lost their sectional-opening game to Fremont 7-6. This was considered a major upset because at the time they were ranked third in the state.

Probably the high point was winning the first 24 games in a row and climbing all the way to a second place state ranking. It was a team with a lot of experience, since nine of the players were seniors.

The team compiled a lot of impressive statistics. They had a team batting average of .354 and a team on-base percentage of .431. Individual batting honors went to Todd Likens (.490). Others batting over 400 were Shane Marshall (.434), Jon Bickel (.404), and Kadish Evans (.400). Likens had 48 RBI's, including six home runs. Shane Marshall had 26 RBI's and Brad Weber, 25. Weber led the team in doubles with 12. The "good eyes" award went to Kadish Evans with his 26 bases on balls, and tops in stolen bases were Evans (16) and Todd Stayer (15).

The pitching staff also contributed to the Baron's success with their team ERA of 1.958. Shane Marshall, who was 10-1 with three saves,had an ERA of .972. Kadish Evans was second in the win column with his 8-1 record. With his ERA of 1.931, his 70 strike out count was second only to Marshall's 72.

The junior varsity had a successful year as well, recording 15 wins while losing only six times.

NHC Co-Champions

Quickery Leads Team To State Ranking

The softball team continued its winning ways in 1993 under first-year head coach Rick Getts. Toward the end of the season they managed to get into the top twenty state rankings while compiling their 19-5 record.

Their 6-1 NHC record made them conference co-champions. Unfortunately Garrett also had a good team that managed to defeat the Barons in the final game of the sectional.

Leading the team with her 17-3 record was pitching ace Holly Quickery. Several honors went to Quickery. She was named to the First Team All-Conference and All State. She was also named the All-Area "Prep of the Year."

Several other Barons received conference honors. Third baseman Ericka Rathburn and catcher Andrea Pettis were named to the first team. Second team honors went to Ashlee Dunn (1st base), Angie Boyd (outfield), and April Marshall (2nd base). Short stop Jenny Barnett and outfielder Tracy Hubbard were on the honorable mention NHC list.

The junior varsity team had a 7-7 record, placing second in the Northrop Invitational. Making significant contributions in pitching were Kinzie Evans, Sabrina Butcher, and Lori Pfister. Leading catchers were Sabrina Butcher, Dana Rohr, and Teresa Glick. Leading the defense in the outfield was Angie Schaab and in the infield, Robyn Greer. The top offensive players for the junior varsity were Lori Pfister and Rachel Walter.

Don't trip, Eric! Working to move the ball downfield for a possible shot on goal is Eric Halbakken (right).

In Inaugural Season

New Varsity Sport Has Winning Year

Although soccer had been a club sport for a couple of years, this was its first year as a varsity sport. The team did quite well, ending up 8-5-2. The Barons outscored their opponents 30-21, holding them scoreless in 15 of the 30 halves played. They had four shut-outs. They did better on the road than at home, losing only one away game.

The Barons averaged 11.4 shots on goal per game while holding the opposition to 9.8 shots on goal. Goalie Simon Short recorded 111 saves for the season while Sean Page had 34.

The top three scorers were Jason Buckmaster (12 goals), Jon Souers (4), and Eric Halbakken (3). Leading in assists were Jon Souers (6), Jason Buckmaster (4), and Jason Wilson and Paul Wrona (2 each).

Shots on goal leaders were Jason Buckmaster (36), Jon Souers (21), and Alex Kiefer and Jason Wilson (15 each). Takeaway leaders were Alex Kiefer (78 steals), Mitch Slone (49 steals), and Scott Johnson (46 steals).

As can be seen, DHS's newest varsity sport got off to a great start, hopefully laying a strong foundation for many successful seasons to come.

Your Voyage of DISCOVERY In 1992-1993

Did you Discover Yourself in the 1993 Saber? Were you one of those people who had fun at ACD Days or the Fair? Were you one of the lucky ones who proudly took part in the graduation ceremonies?

Were you discovered at the Science Fair or pounding nails in woods shop? Did you discover that your future is definitely NOT in the field of researching and writing?

Did you discover yourself as conference and/or sectional champs, or did you suffer with your teammates through a losing season, telling yourselves that at least you were building character?

Did you discover yourself selling concessions or helping others at Christmas? Or were you someone whose job made it impossible for you to be in extra-curricular activities?

So--as the 1993 Saber comes to a close, we hope that you have been able to Discover Yourself somewhere within these pages -- realizing that the task of self-discovery is an ongoing voyage.

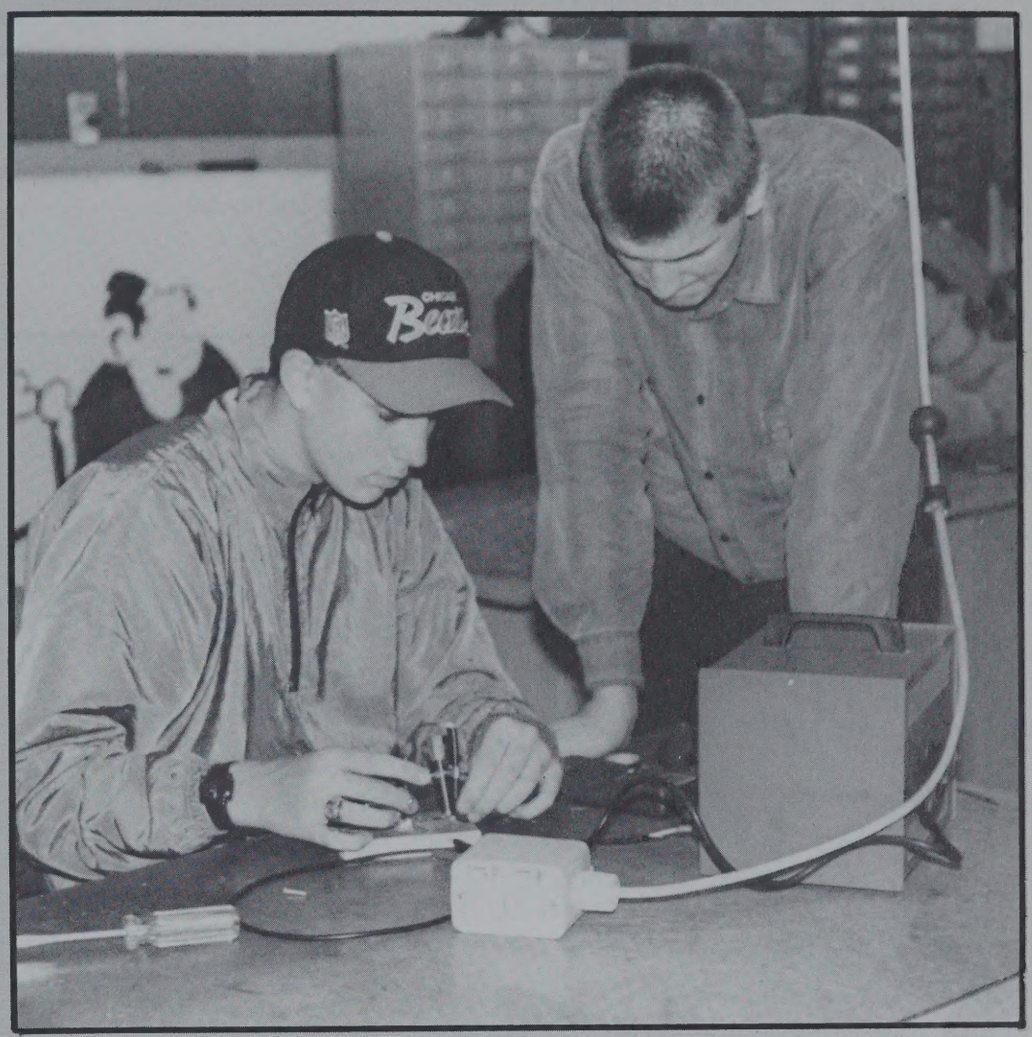
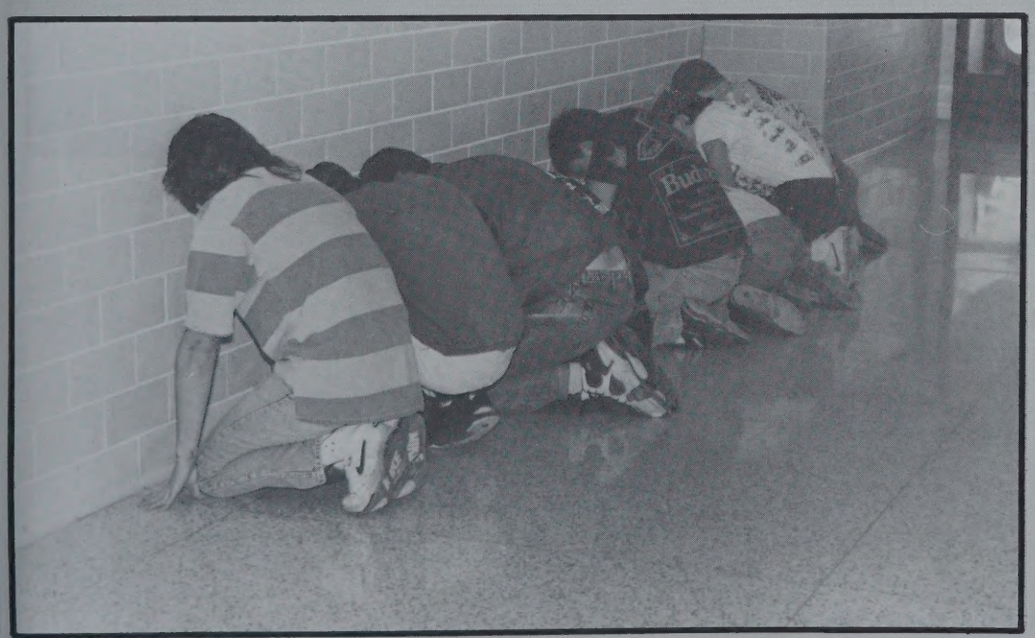
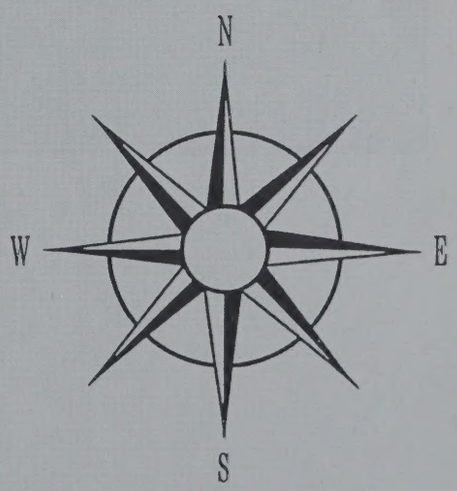
As Act II of "Hello, Dolly!" opens, Elizabeth Shawver, Todd Higgins, Colleen McNabb, and Tim Strawser are discovered singing 'Elegance.'

Before the game began, we discovered Roger Deetz in the stands expressing his feelings about the Northrop Bruins.

Discovering how to change an electric motor into a generator are Rob Wilcox and Danny Campbell.







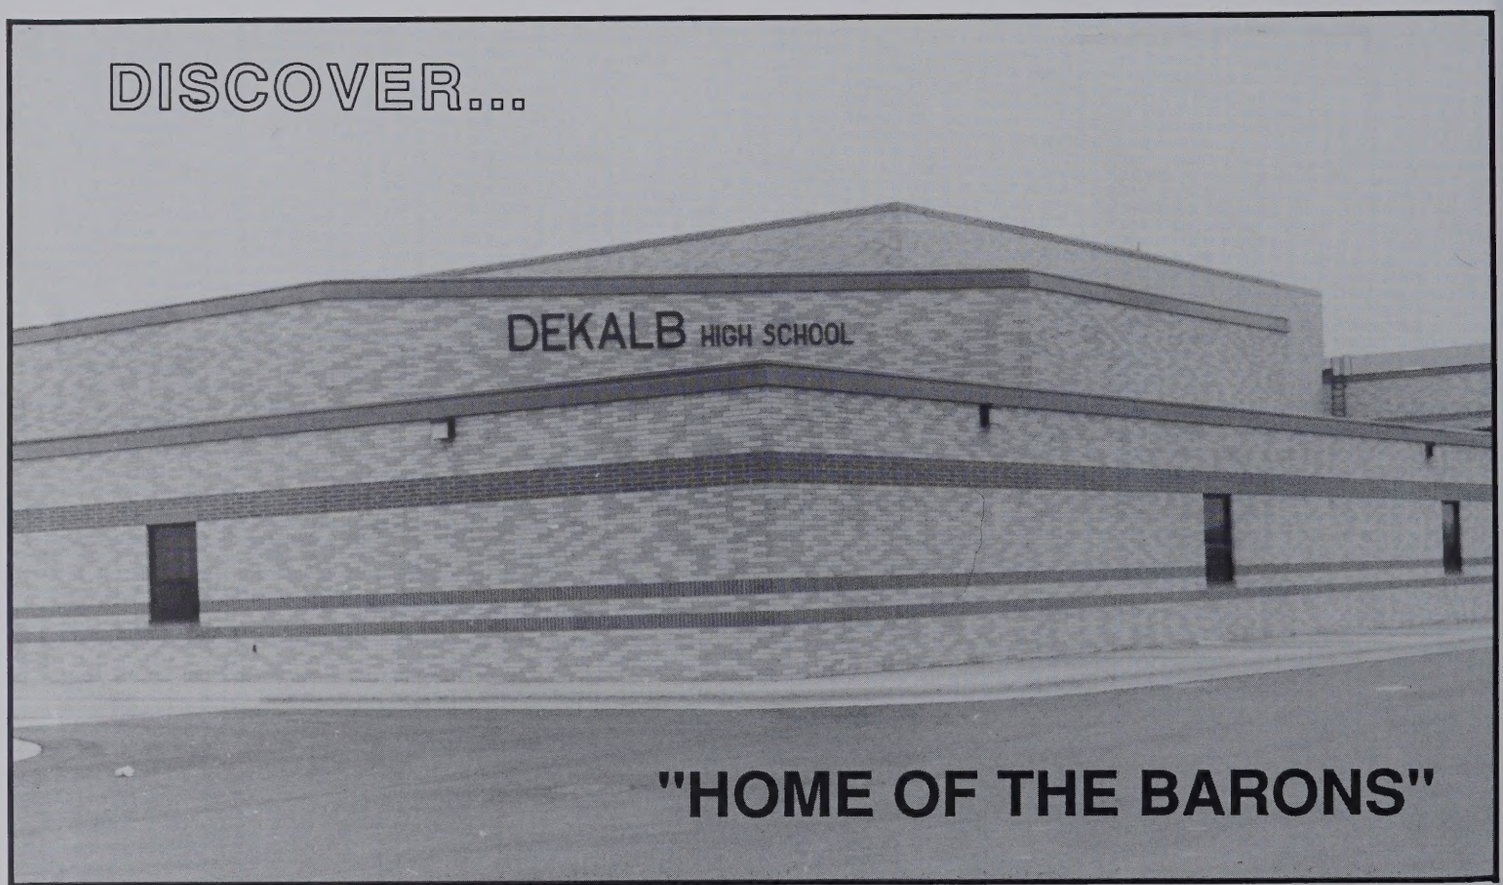
"Maybe if we hide, the teachers won't find us." Have they discovered a new way to skip? No, it's a tornado drill.

THANKS...

The staff of the 1992 "Discover Yourself" SABER wishes to thank those individuals and companies who helped us with producing this yearbook. Mr. Mark Childs, of Jostens Printing and Publishing Division, was there when we really needed him for technical assistance. Senior pictures were taken by Studio One. Underclassmen were photographed by Lifetouch National School Studios.

As the cost of printing continues to rise, the advertisers and sponsors are increasingly important. We especially want to thank those who have continued to support our efforts financially, even in tough economic times. This community has some really great Baron boosters!

Thanks also goes to the faculty, staff, and administration who did many things to help us. Coaches got us their scores and stats before our deadlines. Club sponsors and teachers helped with photo tips. To sum it all up: Thanks!



The 1993 SABER is 9 x 12 and contains 212 pages. The laminated cover is a litho cover in an original design planned by the yearbook staff. The original endsheet design is printed on a white base. Nearly all of the body copy, captions, and headlines were produced by the staff using desktop publishing. The major typeface used was Times Roman.
